Military Solves Problem of Servian Rule by Murdering The Disliked Monarch and His Disreputable Consort.

BLOOD FLOWS IN PALACE; AND ALL EUROPE IS EXCITED

Army Is Responsible for the Tragic Coup d'Etat Which May Result in Russian Rule—Ten Were Shot Down.

[Special Cable to The Gazette.]

Belgrade, Servia, June 11.—Carnage reigned in the Servian capital early this morning; revolution was proclaimed and the king and queen, with eight members of their official household, were assassinated in the palace by their own soldiers.

The following is the official list of the killed:
KING ALEXANDER.
QUEEN DRAGA.
THE QUEEN'S TWO BROTHERS.
PREMIER MARKOVITCH.
THE MINISTER OF WAR.
TWO AIDS-DE-CAMP.
TWO OTHER OFFICERS.

The time of the assassination is given officially as 2 a. m.

It is expected that the skuptschin (Servian parliament) will confirm the proclamation by the army of Prince Peter Karageorgevitch as king of Servia.

The newspapers forecast a better future for Sevia, and the new state of things is heartily welcomed by the masses.

Nothing definite has been decided regarding the burial of the dead.

The new king is reported to be hurrying to Belgrade.

Queen Draga's influence over Alexander and his suspension of the constitution and autocratic acts are given as the cause of the assassination.

Russia has great influence with Peter Karageorgevitch, who has been proclaimed king.

Jealousy of the powers may result in a war which will change the map of Europe.

DRAMATIC DETAILS OF DEATH.

(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

London, June 11.—Dramatic details of King Alexander's death are given in a dispatch to the Daily Express.

After describing the arrival at the palace of the conspirators, headed by Col. Maschin, whose brother was Queen Draga's first husband, and Col. Naumavitch, the correspondent says the noise of the melee at the gates brought together the palace attendants, who were immediately made prisoners. At every door soldiers with fixed bayonets were placed with orders to shoot anyone offering resistance.

A number of the guards who sought to escape were bayoneted. In this way the queen's youngest brother, who appeared in a passageway in his night clothes, met death at the hands of a soldier. He rushed out of his room, shouting: "What does this mean? How dare you enter this place!"

An officer ordered him to consider himself under arrest. He resisted and was immediately killed. In the meantime Col. Maschin had burst open the door leading into the king's apartment with a bomb. Col. Naumovitsch, Col. Mischits and Maj. Lazarovitsch, the latter an open enemy of the king, rushed into the room with drawn revolvers. The king, attired only in a nightdress, stood in the middle of the room, pale and excited. In his hand he held a revolver. He demanded furtously the reason of the intrusion. Naumovitsch held toward him a paper.

KING KILLED INTRUDER.

"We demand your majesty's signature to this paper," he said. "It contains a promise on your part to break with this woman Draga. This woman of ill repute has brought disgrace upon your house and nation. Failing in this, you must abdicate."

The king drew himself up, stepped back toward the bed and, aiming deliberately, fired his revolver at Naumovitsch, who fell dead, shot through the heart.

At this moment Queen Draga appeared at a door opposite, crying out for help. The king begged her to be calm and not to be frightened, soothing her with tender words and requesting her to return to her apartment. Queen Draga refused to move, and, advancing toward Col. Mischits, begged him piteously not to murder them. Mischits had, in the meantime, picked up the paper which his dead comrade had carried, and held it up, shouting: "Let him sign this document and free Servia from your miserable presence."

At this moment Col. Maschin rushed again into the room, fresh from an encounter with Capt. Lunyevitsa, who had offered a most heroic resistance in another part of the palace. Lunyevitsa, wounded in a dozen places with bayonet thrusts and bullets, had torn past his enemies, sword in hand, fighting his way to the door, where, coming face to face with Col. Maschin, he was shot dead by that determined conspirator.

DIED IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS.

At the sight of Maschin, inflamed with passion, the king turned to the queen and told her to fly for her life. They both ran from the room, followed by the officers. Behind the latter came a stream of shouting soldiery. The king and queen ran through the royal sleeping apartment, slamming doors behind them and followed by the shots from the soldiers.

They reached the roof in safety, but here they were overtaken. The king stood in front of his consort, facing the enemies unflinching. He kissed the queen and embraced her for the last time, and then courageously awaited the conspirators, who were now breaking down a door of his apartment.

All was soon over. The door was speedily smashed in by the men. All rushed upon the royal pair, firing with their revolvers as they did so. Both the king and queen fell together, locked as they fell in one last embrace. They were riddled with bullets and must have died instantly.

QUEEN NATALIE.

Wife of Milan, former king of Servia, and mother of King Alexander, who was assassinated yesterday. She is now in retirement in Paris.

SLASHED QUEEN WITH SWORDS.

King Alexander was shot through the neck at the first fire, and the rush of blood suffocated him. Queen Draga received several shots, and after she was dead the regicides slashed her body with their swords and thrust it through and through.

The rugs in the royal chamber were soaked with blood, which flowed over the floors. The window hangings were torn down and trampled under foot, the windows broken and the objects of art shattered in wanton destruction. The murderers afterward embraced and congratulated one another on the success of the plot and announced joyfully to those below that the king and queen had been disposed of.

The residence of the queen's brothers, near the palace, was nearly wrecked. When the brothers were dying from their shot wounds they kissed each other. The ministers who were killed met their deaths at their homes, and in some instances the attacks on them were made in the presence of the members of their families who had run in. Thus the daughter of the Police Minister Todorowitch was wounded. The minister himself escaped with some wounds inflicted while he was trying to telephone to the police headquarters for help. He did not get the connection, as the telephone exchange was occupied by troops.

Court Marshal Nikolejewitch escaped from the royal palace and sought refuge in the Austrian legation. The Austrian minister, Herr Dumba, was thus the first diplomat to learn of the assassinations. He sent a boat across the river requesting the officer commanding at Semlin to send troops to protect the legation. While the officer was deliberating whether he ought to encroach on Servian territory the minister sent another message withdrawing his request. Shots were fired at the Russian legation, but it was afterward explained that they were fired by mistake.

About 150 officers were in the plot, which was astonishingly well kept. This afternoon the streets of Belgrade are fairly quiet. The soldiers in force are doing police duty.

Ljubomir Schickovics has made three speeches to the populace, arguing the necessity for the deed. Bank Director Petrowitch, Queen Draga's brother-in-law, and one of the bitterest enemies of the king and queen, will inherit her fortune.

TRIED TO RESIST REBELS.

While these events were proceeding at the palace the streets of the city were already occupied by soldiers and an armed force surrounded the royal residence. The horses and guns of the batteries of artillery were all decorated with evergreens, as for a festival. The soldiers discarded the badge of King Alexander from their helmets.

An attempt was made to support the dynasty by the commander of the Danube division, who tried to march the Eighth regiment of infantry into the city to help the late king, but he was opposed by a body of troops under Col. Gugowits. In the fight which ensued both the officers mentioned were killed.

What purports to be an official explanation of the tragedy was issued during the day. It says:

AN OFFICIAL EXPLANATION.

"After dinner on Wednesday evening the king and queen, with some of their relatives and several ministers, sat on the balcony of the palace. Suddenly the king demanded that Queen Draga leave the country. She refused and was supported by some of the ministers. When the king saw this opposition he ordered the military to occupy the palace. In the meanwhile the queen's friends were also active and collected her supporters. It was in a fight between the two factions that the king and queen were killed."

Various rumors are in circulation regarding the disposition of the remains of King Alexander and Queen Draga. One report says they were thrown into the street from a window of the palace; another that the bodies of all the murdered persons were buried, but that the king's body will be disinterred and given a church burial.

Numerous causes are suggested as being responsible for the general feeling in Servia which culminated in last night's tragedy. Primary among them was the king's marriage. Queen Draga's attempts to manipulate the political situation; the arrogant behavior of the queen's relatives; the hostile feeling that the Russian court manifested in its refusal to receive the Servian queen, and the financial situation which prevented the regular payment of the officers' salaries all combined to bring about the horrible end of the Obrenovich rule. But all this fails to explain sufficiently this morning's events and it is thought that the real reason yet remains to be told.

NO SIGNS OF MOURNING.

As the morning advanced the excitement in the streets grew steadily. In spite of the pouring rain thousands of people gathered in the vicinity of the palace. Everywhere troops of all arms were posted and field guns were placed in positions to quickly deal with any opposition to the newly formed government's will. Bands of young men paraded the streets, waving flags and shouting, "Long

DEEP-LAID CONSPIRACY CAME FIRST

Details of the Tragedy in the Palace at Belgrade Differ.

MINUTE DESCRIPTION

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

Belgrade, June 11.—A military conspiracy, which subsequent events shows had the sympathy of the majority of the Servian people, was carried out in the early hours of this morning and King Alexander, Queen Draga, her two brothers and several ministers were assassinated.

Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the pretender to the throne, has been proclaimed king by the army, and there is every reason to believe that this decision will be confirmed by the Servian parliament, which has been summoned to meet on June 15.

The revolution was executed without any opposition on the part of the people of Belgrade, and the capital and the country remain tranquil.

While the main outlines of the events which took place within the royal palace are known the details are conflicting, owing to the extraordinary secrecy with which the plot was contrived and carried out. The chief conspirators were all men of high rank, who acted in concert with the army.

ARMY IS RESPONSIBLE.

The participation of the latter in the assassinations of last night, which blotted out the Obrenovitch dynasty, which has ruled Servia with a short intermission for nearly a century, is mainly due to the attitude of King Alexander and his consort toward the officers of the army, whom he always treated with scant courtesy. Today's fate is a sinister one in the history of the Obrenovitch house, being the thirty-fifth anniversary of the assassination of King Alexander's grand uncle, Michael, who was done to death by agents of Alexander Karageorgevitch, the then leading member of the house which has long disputed the throne of Servia against the Obrenovitch family and whose head today, Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, has been proclaimed king.

Dissatisfaction against King Alexander's rule has been accentuated since his suspension of the constitution, last April, and it is from that time that the military plot dated. The organization of last night's bloody deed was carried out with consummate skill. The king for the past two months was thrown off his guard by the apparent quietude of the reception of his recent coup d'etat. In the meantime the conspirators had decided on June 10 as the date for the execution of the revolution for two reasons: First, it is the anniversary of the murder of King Alexander's grand uncle, Michael; and, secondly, because it was feared that further delay would permit the skutschina to settle the succession to the throne according to the king's wishes, and it was believed that the brother of the hated queen would be his choice.

PRIME MOVERS IN PLOT.

The prime movers in the plot were Ljubomir Schiokovics and Vojislav Velkovics, who have entered the new cabinet as ministers of justice and finance respectively. M. Schiokovics was condemned to 20 years' penal servitude for an attempt to assassinate former King Milan.

The king and queen passed the eve of their death quietly. They attended a choral festival, then took supper in the konak and afterwards retired to rest. Meantime the conspirators held a meeting in the Kalimegdan park. The Sixth infantry regiment, which was chosen to carry out the coup d'etat, was recently punished for having used its weapons against a crowd of demonstrators. About 1 o'clock in the morning the Sixth and Seventh regiments were called to arms and were led to the royal palace, which they entirely surrounded. A band of 30 officers, led by Col. Maschin and Col. Mischics, forced their way into the palace, shooting all who attempted to bar their passage. They were aided by treason within. The aide-de-camp on duty, Col. Naumovics, had been won over by the conspirators and was entrusted with the plans for action within the royal enclosure. Several doors leading to the royal apartments were blown in by dynamite, Col. Naumovics himself bursting in the door of the royal bed chamber with a bomb.

AWAITED THE ASSASSINS.

The officers had called upon the king to open, but he had curtly refused. As the door fell the king rushed to a window and appealed for assistance, but no answer came. Realizing the situation, he returned to the queen, holding her in his arms to protect her, and awaited the conspirators.

Col. Naumovics and the officers then entered the room. Naumovics presented to the king a form of abdication for his signature. The document contained the statement that by marrying a "public prostitute" the king had degraded Servia and that he must abdicate. The king's answer was to draw a revolver and kill Naumovics on the spot. Col. Mischics picked up the document and presented it again. King Alexander waved it from him. The officers then, with their drawn revolvers, fired a hail of bullets, and the royal couple fell together to the ground. The king lingered until 4 o'clock this morning, when he died.

The band who carried out the assassinations appear to have met with a great resistance on the balcony side of the palace, where the curtains are torn and the windows broken, as though the occupants had tried to escape into the garden.

TWO LOYAL AIDES KILLED.

Torn gloves and articles of soldiers' clothing lie scattered below. This resistance was probably offered by two loyal aides de camp, who were killed.

A single cannon shot announced the execution of the plot, all the terrible details of which may perhaps never be accurately known. Detachments of troops immediately marched to the bureaus of posts and telegraphs and the railway stations and occupied them. Other troops immediately marched to the barracks and proclaimed Prince Karageorgevitch king. A body of mounted officers with Lieut. Col. Grudics, the son of the present ambassador at Constantinople, at their head, rode to the center of the town and announced the army's choice to the people, who, now alarmed, were thronging the streets.

Enthusiastic shouts were raised of "Long live Karageorgevitch" and "Long live the Army." The warmest welcome was extended to Queen Draga's brother-in-law, Col. Maschin, one of the regicides. The troops at the barracks received the news with joy. There was only one objector, Gen. Nikolics, commander of the Danube division, who was promptly shot down and severely wounded, but not before he had shot and killed Lieut. Cugler.

All the places of business are closed and many inhabitants have left the town. Even with a pass it is difficult to obtain admission to Belgrade, so carefully guarded is it.

REVOLUTION IS APPROVED.

The newspapers are almost unanimous in approving the revolution. Some compassion is felt for the unfortunate king, but the people generally admit that no other solution to an intolerable situation was possible. The radical papers assert that the recent scandalous elections were the chief causes of the conspiracy. There is some talk of a republic, but the majority of the people desire the accession of Prince Karageorgevitch.

All remains quiet tonight, an encouraging effect being produced by the absolute unanimity which prevails regarding the choice of the new ruler, whose proclamation as king by the army will undoubtedly be ratified by parliament. This quiet acceptance of the revolution is apparently the same throughout the country, but fears are entertained that attack may be made on prefects and communal authorities. The government, therefore, has taken strong measures to suppress any opposition to its will.

It had been expected that Prince Karageorgevitch would arrive immediately, but it is stated tonight that he will only arrive after he has been summoned by parliament.

Col. Bogdan Dmitjanovics has been appointed prefect of Belgrade and all the members of the late government who were not murdered have been liberated. The former leaders of the radical party, Messrs. Pasics, Vuskes and Nikolajevics, who have been staying at Albania have been summoned hither.

SERVIANS WERE LONG SUFFERING

Priest En Route to Allegheny Tells of Situation at Belgrade.

RULERS' WEAKNESS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 11.

The Rev. Ivan Dolinac, a Croatian priest, who came to America yesterday from Servia to take charge of a church of that denomination in Allegheny, said today of the Servian massacre:

"I am by no means surprised at the assassination of King Alexander and his queen. When I left Servia the whole country was in a state of insurrection and trouble was feared every day. The only cause for surprise is that the populace did not rise sooner, for they have threatened to do so for months.

"The people have been at boiling point for a long time. The soldiery have shown a disposition to mutiny, and all classes from laborers to state officials, have been at war, first among themselves, then with the government, then friendly for a time, then at war again. The result was a concerted movement against the government.

"The king was a young man with a weak mind who tried to be harsh and despotic. Queen Draga was as weak as he was and both were cordially disliked.

"There are three factions in Servia. The Radical or working classes; the Progressionists, composed of the rich and influential citizens, and the Liberals, which includes professional men. At the start of the trouble the Radicals were on the side of the king, the Progressionists favored Queen Draga, and the Liberals were nonpartisan.

"King Alexander started grave trouble a few months ago when he turned out all officeholders who belonged to the working classes and installed in their places the Progressionists. This was to win them from the queen's side to his. The Liberals then asked for a share of the offices, and the queen, too, protested against the ousting of the Radicals, but the king refused to reconsider his action. Then the Radicals rose, and there was riot after riot, with much bloodshed.

"Minister Markovitch, who was one of those killed, was an object of great hatred because of his treatment of the laboring classes. When the riots became general he put every city and town under martial law. As the soldiers were inimical to the people, there was much trouble.

"At last the people made an appeal to the queen to stop the oppression. She induced the king to declare the martial law of no effect and to punish the army. This made the army angry and they turned against the king and joined the people in their fight.

"I have no doubt that Markovitch was the first one killed, as bitterly was he detested, and that, then, the people and soldiers, having tasted blood, continued their awful work. My only wonder is that so few were killed. If the butchery was done by the soldiery, rest assured the people were back of it. The only element out of the trouble was the professional men."

POPE WAS SHOCKED.

Exclaimed That Thrones Stained With Blood Are Not Worth Having.

ROME, June 11.—The pope, when informed of the tragedy at Belgrade, was deeply shocked and exclaimed:

"When will the people learn that thrones stained with blood are not worth having?"

According to official reports, no international complications are likely to result. The Austro-Russian agreement of December, 1902, concerning the Balkans is so perfect that even if intervention in Servian affairs became necessary it would occur by the common accord of the two powers.

Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the newly proclaimed king, entertains great esteem and deference for the king of Italy, whom he visited two years ago on the occasion of the birth of Princess Yolande.

DRAGA'S BROTHER CAUSE OF HATRED

King's Reported Intention to Designate Him Heir Apparent Aroused Hostility.

NEWS HEARD AT WASHINGTON

Diplomats Familiar With Servian Politics Not Surprised at the Tragic Denouement of an Intolerable Situation. President Asks for Latest Advices.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 10, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.

King Alexander's reported intention to designate Lieut. Lunuewvitch, Queen Draga's brother, as the heir apparent to the throne of Servia, was, according to private advices received here recently by a European diplomat familiar with Servian politics, the greatest cause for hostility to him. King Alexander was without issue by Queen Draga, who was many years his senior, and although he officially denied such intention a few weeks ago, the suspicion that he would endeavor to settle Lunuewvitch in the succession has been the cause of much unrest. The advices received here say nothing of any plot to assassinate the king, but they indicate threatening unrest in Belgrade.

Largely because of its spectacular features but partly on account of the possible effect on European politics, the assassination of the king and queen and members of their suite as the principal topic of discussion in high governmental circles, and among the few European diplomats still remaining here. The details are so meager that no one ventures to predict what may come from the chaos.

The state department was notified of the assassination in the telegram from United States Consul General Voegeli at Belgrade, sent from Zlatonje, a village six miles from Belgrade:

"Tonight, 2 o'clock, military revolution. King and queen shot. Peter Karageorgevich proclaimed king."

Later there came from Mr. Wilson, secretary of legation at Athens, the same information, together with the statement that "Minister Jackson left for Belgrade Tuesday." Mr. Jackson, in addition to being accredited to Greece, is the United States representative to the Balkan states.

Russia is here regarded as the most interested of all European powers in any overturnow of the Servian government, and some diplomats today predicted that Russia would take steps to strengthen her influence in Servia in the midst of the present disturbance.

President Roosevelt first heard of the assassination today on the train on which he was returning to Washington from the Hanna-McCormick wedding at Cleveland. He was greatly surprised, and upon arriving here sent to the state department for all the advices there on the subject.

NEW KING KEEPS CLOSE TO HIS HOME IN GENEVA

Declares Himself Innocent of Any Knowledge of the Tragedy at Belgrade.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

GENEVA, June 11.—Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, whom the Servian army has proclaimed king did not leave his house here all day. Over the telephone this evening he said to the Associated Press correspondent that he had not yet received any official news regarding the events which took place in Belgrade last night. He did not even know whether it was true that he had been proclaimed king and he said he did not know when or whether he would start for Belgrade. The new ministry, he added, included several of his adherents, but he was unable to speak definitely on this subject, as a number of names had been mutilated in telegraphic transmission.

Through the Russian consul, an intimate friend of Prince Karageorgevitch, the Associated Press correspondent this evening obtained the following statement:

"Prince Karageorgevitch declares himself innocent of any knowledge of the tragedy at Belgrade. He said that through his grandfather he undoubtedly had the best right to the Servian throne, and intended taking it if possible for the sake of his son, but he expected to meet with great difficulties and hoped for assistance from Austria."

From other sources it is learned that the prince will leave secretly on Friday morning for Vienna, whence he will proceed to Belgrade. Rumors have been current here for three days of expected trouble in Servia, and Prince Karageorgevitch has been receiving an enormous quantity of telegrams for a week past, many of them from the frontier of Servia.

During his residence in Geneva, Prince Karageorgevitch went freely into society. It has been a subject of general remark among the aristocracy and the people that he has looked extremely careworn for some months.

The prince is of medium height and build, and his face is rather fierce. The prince is not rich and keeps only a woman servant and a valet. He has several times proclaimed himself heir to the Servian throne, but has no entourage, as his poverty is known and the presence of a court would have excited suspicion.

Russian money was undoubtedly used in the revolution, which, according to general belief, was planned here. It is recalled that when the Austrian empress was murdered by the Anarchist Luccheni in this city in 1898, Prince Karageorgevitch openly applauded the deed. He is extremely popular here with all classes and is described as unassuming and strictly honest in all private and public transactions. He is still considered to be a member of the Montenegrin royal family into which he married.

QUEEN DRAGA WAS EVER A DISTURBING ELEMENT

Woman Was Responsible for Dynastic Troubles, Which Were Long Pending.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARIS, June 11.—The startling announcement of the assassination of the king and queen of Servia caused a deep sensation here, particularly in governmental circles. Servia's dynastic troubles have been long impending, the present uprising being due to the animosities growing out of the propaganda of the Pretender Karageorgevitch. It is recalled that when the Karageorgevitch dynasty secured brief rule in 1858, the European powers intervened and established a protectorate and thus terminated that dynasty. Whether there will be similar action of the powers at this time officials are unwilling to predict. It is generally believed that the assassinations are the sequel of the king's coup d'etat two months ago when he suspended the constitution, resulting in the disgrace and the retirement of a number of senators and leading officials.

Prince Bodjar Karageorgevitch, cousin of the new king, today told a reporter that he considered Queen Draga to have been the cause of the assassinations. On becoming queen she made herself first feared and then hated. She brutally revenged herself for the slightest offenses and pitilessly crushed high or low who had the misfortune to displease her. The late king was only a tool in the hands of this bold, domineering woman. He was so weak-minded that a doctor who attended him at Biarritz declared that if he had been a Frenchman he would have been declared intellectually unfit for military service.

Prince Bodjar added: "The youthful sovereign was the victim of the merited unpopularity of his consort. He could not resist her. His culpable weakness destroyed him. Moreover, 'who so draws the sword shall perish by the sword.' My family has been tried to the utmost. My grandfather was assassinated and seventeen of my relatives have been executed without trial, while others were tortured. Such crimes must be expiated sooner or later."

NEW KING LIVED IN A MODEST APARTMENT

Pretender to Servian Throne Appeared Astonished at Belgrade Tragedy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, June 11.—Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, who has been living here for some time, appeared to be greatly astonished at the news from Belgrade, which, he said, he had only learned through a private telegram from Vienna. Prince Karageorgevitch lives in a modest apartment on the Rue de la Bellotte. Recently he has been in constant communication with Servian politicians, has been several times to Vienna and has also visited St. Petersburg, where his son is at school.

BERLIN, June 11.—It is believed here that Prince Karageorgevitch enjoys much greater sympathy with high Russian government officials than did the late King Alexander. The Tageblatt says the Servian representative here does not believe Prince Karageorgevitch will ascend the throne.

PARIS, June 11.—The new king is well known here, having frequently visited this city. He has a cousin, Prince Bodjar Karageorgevitch, living on the Avenue du Bois de Boulogne, who took part in the French campaign in Tonquin and was decorated with the cross of the Legion of Honor. In an interview today Prince Bodjar said he considered that popular hatred of Queen Draga was largely responsible for the events at Belgrade. He added that his cousin, the new king, had long aspired to the Servian throne and declared that the family was closely allied to Russia, thus assuring a pro-Russian policy in Servia.

Dr. Petrovitch, of the Servian legation, described the new king as a student of affairs of state, as being intensely animated by Servia's political destinies and as an admirer of Russia. The newly proclaimed king, Dr. Petrovitch added, is sending his son to St. Petersburg, where he will be educated at the expense of the imperial court of Russia.

Politicians had frequently sought to induce the new king to attempt to take the throne at Servia, but he always replied that he would only pursue a dynastic contest to provoke a civil convulsion and he preferred to await the result of the popular weariness resulting from the old regime.

Prince Karageorgevitch was a member of the fashionable diplomatic set in Paris and included among his acquaintances a number of Americans. He is described as having an agreeable personality, has been a frequenter of the leading clubs and hotels and was a well-known figure at the races and sports. He was educated at the St. Cyr military college, and entered the French army in 1870, with the rank of captain. A brother, Prince Arsene, is now in Paris. The latter received a dispatch today advising him that his brother had been proclaimed king. Prince Arsene said he probably would join his brother and take part in the events connected with his assuming the sovereignty of Servia.

Former Queen Natalie, mother of the late King Alexander, is living at the Hotel Reservoir, Versailles, with her sister, Princess Ghika, wife of the Roumanian minister. Queen Natalie received the first news from Belgrade this afternoon by telephone from the foreign office. She immediately retired to her private apartments, declining to see any one except members of the family or intimate friends.

CRISIS IN THE BALKANS HAS NOW BEEN REACHED

Chicago Servians Believe Some European Power is Playing Deep Political Game.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Servian colony of Chicago is shocked at the Belgrade tragedy and the people here are anxious for the lives and safety of their friends and relatives in Servia.

Vladislav Kukaric, who recently came to this country from Servia, in discussing the situation in his native land said: "The native born Servian is opposed to murder and assassination. Every Servian regrets the death of his king and queen, even though they were not all satisfied with them. We are shocked at the horrible news. From what I know of conditions in my country, I firmly believe that the whole trouble in being stirred by foreign powers anxious to end the sovereignty of Servia."

"Present conditions in Servia show that the crisis in the Balkan peninsula is at hand," said one of the foreign consuls today, who for political reasons refused the use of his name.

"One of the most skilful diplomatic games is being played there at this time and I believe that the critical move is now in order. Servia has been a sort of pivoting center of Russia, Turkey and Austria, and the outbreak there at this time is very significant."

RECEIVED CONDOLENCE FOR THEIR SUCCESS

Paris Sounds Note of Warning and Expreses Indignation Over Tragedy.

PARIS, June 11.—During the afternoon the Servian legation received an official dispatch in cipher, signed by a member of the new government, which confirmed the deaths of the king and queen and specially emphasized the fact that perfect quiet prevailed at Belgrade and throughout Servia. Foreign Minister Delcasse called at the Servian legation and presented the condolences of the French government. The legation was besieged during the day by resident Servians.

The presentation of many messages of condolence brought out the peculiar status of the present Servian government, which is receiving condolences on the success of its own acts.

The tragedy at Belgrade was the universal theme for discussion in the lobbies of the senate and chamber, and general horror or surprise was expressed at the unforeseen events which, it is believed, will not have a serious effect on European politics.

The Paris manager of one of the leading American life insurance companies informed the correspondent of the Associated Press that a number of efforts were made to insure the lives of the Servian sovereigns, but that the company declined to accept the risks, knowing of the dynastic intrigues.

A few of the newspapers seemingly justify the radical measures adopted against the late Queen Draga, holding her chiefly responsible, but the more serious papers like the Temps and the Journal des Debats sound a note of warning. The Debats, particularly, voiced the widespread feeling of indignation, saying there was no parallel for such a drama except in the days of barbarism or among modern barbarians."

The belief is rapidly gaining ground here that the new dynasty will have a dangerous task in attempting to overcome the recollection of its bloody entrance into power. The Debats characterizes the dominant Servian element as "the party of regicides."

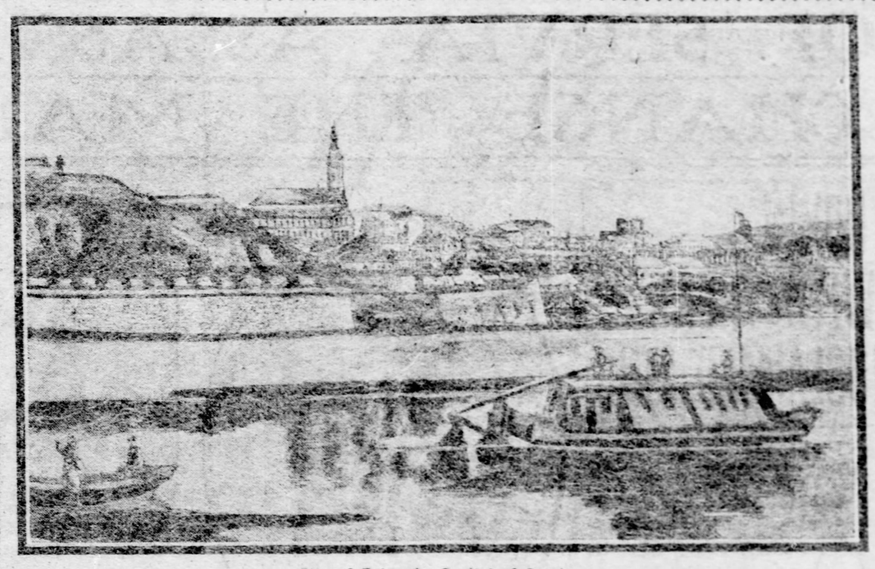
STEAD CONFIRMS TALE OF SEERESS' PROPHECY

At Seance at His House She Saw Vision of Alexander's Death in a Jewel.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1903, by New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, June 11.—Mijatovitch, the Servian minister here, confirmed the story of the prediction of the assassination by a clairvoyant. This prediction was made about a month ago at a reception at Mowbray House, where W. T. Stead had gathered two or three mediums. The minister's story was confirmed by Mr. Stead, who said to the reporter that in the course of the seance one of the mediums was handed a jewel, which at one time belonged to King Alexander and a letter which had been written by the king. She was not aware to whom they belonged or where they came from.

After holding them in her hands for a time, she said: "These belong to royalty." She then became very excited. "I see," she cried, "the interior of a palace. The king is being killed. The queen is beside him. She has fallen on her knees. I cannot see whether the queen has been killed, but the king is dead. Terrible! Terrible!"



City of Belgrade, Capital of Servia.

KING'S GREATEST TROUBLE WAS IN SECURING CONSORT

The young king of Servia represented one of the newest royal families of Europe. The dynasty was founded by his great-grandfather's brother, Milosch Obrenovitch, who began life as a swineherd; and its brief history has been a stormy one. Milosch's son and successor, Michael, was assassinated; his grandnephew, Milan, escaped a like fate by abdicating. There has been war with Turkey and with Bulgaria, and a bitter internal feud between the established rulers and the Karageorgevitch pretenders, the descendants of "Black George," who led the Servian peasants' first revolt against Turkish domination.

It is not strange that Alexander, the fourth Obrenovitch, should have difficulty in finding a princess to share his throne. Four times he was reported as paying his addresses at four several courts. First it was Helen of Montenegro whose hand he sought, who later married the present King Victor Emmanuel of Italy; then Sibylle of Hesse; then Olga Dolgorouki, the czar's half sister by his father's morganatic wife; and finally Marie of Greece. This last match might have been arranged but for one objection—the opposition of the lady herself, who preferred another Alexander, a son of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia.

AUSTRIAN GOVERNMENT APPROVES NEW DYNASTY

Will Observe Complete Neutrality as to the Events in Servia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

VIENNA, June 11.—The following semi-official statement of the views of the Austrian government is published tonight:

"Austro-Hungarian policy observes complete neutrality as to events in Servia and will only abandon this standpoint in the event, which at present is not to be assumed, of being forced to do so through the immediate jeopardising of our interests. In conformity with that principle of our policy, the policy by which we desire to promote with all our strength the prosperous development of Servia, we should regard the reversion of the Servians to the old Karageorgevitch dynasty as quite natural and we would approve it under the present circumstances, as this step offers the most promising solution for the peace and order of the country."

A prominent war official is reported as saying that the necessity for Austria to intervene in Servia will only arise in the event of disorders extending over the border into Bosnia and Herzegovina, where many Servians are living. Whilst the murders at Belgrade, continued the official, must be regretted, it is probable that the diplomats of Eastern Europe have cause to feel easier in their minds. King Alexander's position had become untenable and the days of his reign were numbered. As there is now no pretender to the throne from the Obrenovitch family existing, it may be expected that Servia will have an opportunity to recover from the disorders which have troubled the kingdom recently, and become a less disquieting factor in the Balkan situation.

SYNOD TO MEET HERE.

Lutherans Decide to Hold Next General Session in Pittsburgh.

BALTIMORE, June 11.—The closing session of the general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church was held tonight. Services were held in celebration of the board of deaconesses. Addresses were delivered by Judge Peter S. Grosscup of Chicago; the Rev. Dr. Dell of Philadelphia, and the Rev. Dr. Walter of New York, after which the synod adjourned sine die.

This afternoon the committee appointed to consider the raising of $1,000,000 within the next five years for general educational work recommended that a committee of the presidents of the denomination's colleges be appointed to devise plans for getting the money. This was adopted.

Pittsburg was selected as the next meeting place of the general synod. It will convene in Bethany church on June 14th, 1905.

EARTHQUAKE FELT.

Shock Extended Along the California Coast, but Did No Damage.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 11.—A sharp shock of earthquake was experienced here at 5:12 o'clock this morning, lasting over 10 seconds. No damage is reported. The shock was felt to the south in Los Banos, Acton Sergeant, Oakland and Santa Margarita, and on the east side at Newman. Northward the shock was severe at Tiburon, San Rafael, Petaluma and Vallejo, where it was quite prolonged.

Union of Churches Indorsed.

At the fourteenth annual convention of the Young People's Christian union of the Allegheny conference of the United Brethren church, held in the North Braddock church, yesterday, the proposed union of the United Brethren church with the Methodist Protestant church was indorsed. The union also decided to continue its fight against the liquor traffic. Officers for next year were elected as follows: President, Dr. G. W. Miller of Irwin; vice president, the Rev. A. T. Boeing of Glasgow, Somerset county; corresponding secretary, the Rev. J. L. Leichliter of Dubois; recording secretary, Miss Margaret Leichliter of Dubois; superintendent of the intermediate department, the Rev. T. M. Sharp of McKeesport; superintendent of junior work, Mrs. Anna B. Wharton of North Braddock.

PROVISIONAL GOVERNMENT INSTITUTED AT BELGRADE

New Ministry Proposes That National Representatives Elect a Sovereign.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BELGRADE, June 11.—The new ministry tonight published the following statement:

"Certain differences which arose at court have led to the intervention of the army and a conflict in which the king and queen lost their lives.

"With a view to maintaining peace and order in the country—at the present moment difficult and fateful—the representatives of all the political parties have hastened to come to an understanding and form a provisional government in order to re-establish the constitution, existing before March 29, 1903, and to re-assemble the representatives elected under the constitution of April 6, 1901.

"At a sitting to be held on June 15, the national representatives will elect a sovereign and assume control of the situation. According to the reports received up to the present from the civil and military authorities, order has not been disturbed in any part of the country, and the government will take steps to maintain it. The government feels convinced that by acting thus it will ensure for the new order of things the sympathies of all the European powers."

ARMIES OF AUSTRIA AND RUSSIA WILL MOBILIZE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 11.—Dr. Geza Kalizany, the Magyar Presbyterian missionary here, is not surprised at the turn of affairs in Servia. "I have been in Servia many times and know the royal family," he said. "You may be sure that the massacre will result in the mobilization of the Austro-Hungarian and Russian armies, for Austria and Servia are connected in many ways and Russia, you may be sure, is behind this act. The czar has committees established throughout the peninsula and he dictates every act.

"During the rule of King Milan I have seen the army dressed in rags while the king squandered the money which should have gone for their pay. The same is true today. King Alexander fell in love with Draga Machin, the widow of a soldier of his father's court, fifteen years his elder, and when he married her in opposition to his mother, all Servia said a widow should not rule the country.

"The army since that time has been in two factions, one supporting the dead queen and the other Queen Natalie. The conditions in the army have grown worse and worse, and pay days have been farther and farther apart. As there are no descendants of King Milan to take the throne outside of Alexander, the world has laughed at Draga's attempt to pass off a spurious heir for whom she asked the czar to stand godfather, and general unrest has been caused."

DEPUTY MARSHAL SHOT BY KENTUCKY FARMER

MESTERLING, KY., June 11.—(Special.)—Nymrod Byrd, a young farmer, shot and fatally wounded Dee Smith, deputy marshall, this afternoon. Byrd called a negro to hold his horse. The boy did not respond quick enough and Byrd pulled his pistol. Smith attempted to arrest him, when he turned in the buggy in which he was sitting and fired. One bullet struck Smith in the breast, piercing the lung. Byrd was captured in a wheat field near his home and lodged in jail.

N. Stevens of Portland, Me., was re-elected vice president-at-large. Mrs. Clara Parrish Wright of Paris, Ill., was elected superintendent of the Young Woman's branch.

live Karageorgevitch." Flags are flying from nearly every house in Belgrade and there is absolutely no display whatever of crape or other signs of mourning. The royal standard has been lowered from over the palace. Reports from places outside Belgrade indicate that the country accepts the disappearance of the Obrenovitch dynasty without regret.

The immediate cause of the revolution was the return to Belgrade of Lieut. Lunguevitza, brother of the queen and a supposed candidate for the throne. The surviving ministers have been arrested.

The obsequies of the king and queen will be held June 14. A festal illumination was held this evening. Intense joy prevails at Belgrade.

STORY THAT KING KILLED HIMSELF.

A version of the tragedy circulated here is that when the troops entered the royal bedroom King Alexander seized a revolver and shot the queen and then killed himself.

The career of the Obrenovitch dynasty was closed in the early hours of this morning, the same day of the year on which Prince Michael was murdered 35 years ago in the park of Topschider, near Belgrade. Today a requiem mass was being sung in memory of Prince Michael, and now the last of his race, together with all connected with the dynasty by his unfortunate marriage, lies in a bier in the palace.

The people of Belgrade have been flocking the streets since 5 o'clock this morning discussing the tragedy, but without condemnation. A strong detachment of troops is encamped about the palace of the newly proclaimed king, who was a prisoner to the throne for many years. All entry to the palace is prohibited and a strong cordon of troops surrounds the royal residence.

The ministers who shared the fate of their sovereign were the leading spirits of the Obrenovitch party. Their murder removes the only men capable of making a real stand against the Karageorgevitchs, who have now no serious opponents in Servia.

PRINCE YE OF KOREA BRUTALLY ASSAULTED AT COLUMBUS RESORT

Has Cabled the Emperor, His Father, and Serious Complications May Arise.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Columbus, O., June 11.—Prince Ye, son of the emperor of Korea, a student at the Ohio Wesleyan university, together with his secretary, Ewaha, were assaulted at Stratford park, a summer resort, near this city, Wednesday evening. The prince has cabled his father and international complications may result.

The prince, in company with his secretary, had just arrived at the park when they were approached by Jon Stout, son of a well-known horseman. Stout, it was claimed, was intoxicated and making the remark, "Watch me kill the Chinaman," struck the prince squarely in the mouth. His secretary interfered and received similar treatment.

The injured foreigners were taken to Delaware, where their injuries were attended to and Stout was arrested. He is now in jail. The condition of the prince was such that he was compelled to take to his bed. This is his first year at the university, where he is extremely popular.

NEW OIL WELL FLOWING 2,000 BARRELS A DAY

FINDLAY, O., June 11.—(Special.)—On the Adam Stacy farm the Monarch Oil Company today struck an oil well that is beyond control. A valley tap was encircled but it was impossible to attach it. The well is flowing over 2,000 barrels a day, wild. A large force of men has gone to the well to build embankments.

GERMANY'S ATTITUDE IS NOT YET DEFINED

Feeling in Official Circles at Berlin Is Hostile to the Revolutionists in Servia.

BERLIN, June 11.—The German government cannot be said to have taken up any attitude as yet regarding the provisional administration of Servia. Horror was expressed at the foreign office at the bloody coup d'etat. The immediate feeling is one of antagonism to the new ministry and there is an indisposition to make its path easy. The foreign office for the present is simply waiting full information from its legation at Belgrade and is also sounding the other chancelleries.

The fact that the late King Alexander was not allied to any European reigning family is regarded as simplifying the situation. Germany has no special political interest in the events in Servia. That an intrigue looking to the enthronement of the late king was on foot had been known to the German government and also to the government of Servia for some time, but no importance was attached to the matter. The late king seems to have looked upon the links of the existence of a plot as not having special significance. Reports to this effect have been circulated in the Austrian and German newspapers and have been cabled to the United States, but as the Balkans are so productive of baseless rumors those concerning the plot against the late king of Servia were treated lightly.

The members of the provisional ministry of Servia form an energetic group. Each one is a person of some celebrity in Servia.

M. Avakumovities, the new premier, was premier in the Liberal government of 1892, and previously was minister of justice and judge of the court of appeals. He is the best known jurist in Servia.

M. Protics, the new minister of the interior, is the most prominent leader of the Radicals and an able speaker and writer.

M. Kallevics, the new foreign minister, was premier in 1878 and later minister to Vienna. Latterly he had been a senator and has been occupying a neutral political position.

M. Schlokovics, the new minister of justice, sharply criticised the doings of the royal pair in the last parliament. Like M. Protics, he was condemned to 20 years' imprisonment because of his complicity in a plot against King Milan, but he was pardoned.

M. Genshics, the new minister of commerce, served two years in prison on the charge of high treason for his opposition to the late King Alexander's marriage.

M. Velikovics, the new finance minister, is a former member of the cabinet.

Hutchinson Is Now a Detective.

Thomas Hutchinson of the Twentieth ward, formerly pawn clerk in the department of public safety, was appointed on the detective bureau yesterday by Director Harry Moore. Hutchinson will look after the bureau's work in the pawn shops. He was formerly identified with the Republican organization. After the contest last fall he worked for the Democratic organization in the Twentieth ward. Hutchinson was dismissed as pawn clerk by former Director A. H. Leslie.

Alimony Given Mrs. Frances Thaw.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Frances Thaw, known on the stage as Fanny Rush, who is being sued for a divorce by her husband, Charles Harper Thaw, was today granted $50 per week alimony by Judge Blanchard in the supreme court. Thaw is a cousin of the countess of Yarmouth. He resisted the motion and his attorney said that he was receiving only $22 a week as salary and had no other source of income.

On Trial for His Life.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 11.—Robert Nugent, accused of the murder last March of John D. Ferguson, a Pittsburgh traveling salesman, was placed on trial here this morning. The commonwealth opened with damaging testimony against Nugent, producing witnesses who saw and recognized Nugent as he was running away from the scene of the murder with the smoking revolver in his hand.

over 200 new Pianos

$180, $195, $210

While making a business visit in Chicago about June 1st, two members of our house met a piano manufacturer who was retiring from business and endeavoring to dispose of his plant. He had over two hundred pianos on hand which he desired to move quickly, so that he could give the new owner possession of the plant. He made us a proposition. We made him a counter proposition, based on cash settlement and immediate shipment. He took it—and we've got the pianos—coming. The only drawback in this transaction is the immediate shipment feature. Our present stock is large and we couldn't possibly find room at once for over two hundred more pianos unless our present stock is reduced quickly—but we couldn't resist the opportunity to buy those fine pianos at about sixty per cent of their wholesale cost—so they're coming and we've got to make room for them. There's only one way to reduce this present stock of pianos.

SELL THEM

Over two hundred new pianos priced at $165, $185, $210, $260, $290, $340, and these values are far below regular prices, which range from $250 to $500. Among the new pianos offered from our present stock are Smith and Barnes, Willard, New England, Hamilton, Kirchner, Schumann (genuine), Biddle, Langmann, Cable & Sons, Fischer and others.

Terms, either cash or easy monthly payments. We will also rent a number of these new pianos at the rate of $5 per month.

It is impossible to give full details here. We will gladly send a complete list of the pianos now offered, together with cash or time prices, if you will write for them. But our advice to you is, take next car for our store and make your selection at once.

Persons Who Are Involved in the Great Servian Tragedy

NEW KING CLOSE TO RUSSIAN RULE

One Son Is Being Educated in St. Petersburg at Expense of Czar.

IS OF PEASANT ANCESTRY

A Descendant of Black George, Who Drove Turks from Servia in 1807. Brother-in-Law of the King of Italy.

NEW KING CLOSELY ALLIED TO RUSSIA

Is 60 years old, a widower and has two children.

Resides in Geneva, where he was during the massacre.

Studied art in Paris, learned little and did nothing.

Also attended Ecole Saint Eyr.

Entered foreign legion 1867.

Fought in war 1870 in French ranks as captain.

Writes odd barbarian poems.

Married Princess Zorka, daughter of Prince Nicholas of Montenegro, 1883.

His two sons are being educated at St. Petersburg, one at the expense of the imperial court of Russia.

Through his wife he is brother-in-law of queen of Italy, grand duchess of Russia and duchess of Leuchtenberg.

There are four adult Princes Karageorgevitch, namely: Peter, Arsene, Bodizar and Alexis.

None of these princes has wealth.

Alexis and Bodizar support their mother by designing cravats.

Prince Peter Karageorgevitch, the new king is a grandson of Kara-George (Black George), who in 1804 raised the first insurrection against the Turks. The new king is about 60 years of age and is a widower. He resided in Geneva for some time past, from which place he has conducted the propaganda in favor of his claim to the throne.

Prince Karageorgevitch has been the principal pretender to the throne. His father, now dead, was convicted "in contumaciam" of being the principal instigator of the murder of the reigning Prince Michael of Servia, in 1868, and was as such forbidden to set foot in Hungary. Prince Peter married the eldest daughter of the reigning prince of Montenegro, who died, leaving him with a couple of boys, George and Alexander, who are being educated at St. Petersburg, one under the direction of their father's brother, Alexis, who is in the Russian service, and the other at the expense of the imperial court of Russia.

It was Alexis, it may be remembered, who came to this country for the purpose of pressing his suit for the hand of the daughter and heiress of a wealthy American pork packer, Miss Mabelle Swift of Boston, but who was obliged to return to Europe without the bride.

Peter and Arsene are sons of that Alexander Karageorgevitch who reigned over Servia from 1842 to 1858. Peter, the elder, regards himself as the chief pretender to the Servian throne and as the head of the house of Karageorgevitch. As the widower of the Princess Sorka, he is, therefore, a brother-in-law of the queen of Italy, as well as the Grand Duchess Peter of Russia, and of the duchess of Leuchtenberg. His younger brother, Arsene, married to the enormously wealthy Aurora Demidoff, is an officer of the Russian guards, and makes his home in St. Petersburg.

This tragedy is the final chapter in an 80-year contest between the Karageorgevitch and Obenovitch families. The former family came into power in 1807 when Black George, who, beginning life as a peasant, gathered his own class about him in an insurrection, drove the Turks from the country and got himself recognized as prince.

He held the throne until 1817, when the Turks again secured control of the country, and placed Miloch, the first Obenovitch, on the throne. Miloch was ruler until 1839, when he in turn was deposed by Black George, and forced to flee from the country. After a few years the Obenovitch family again secured the upper hand, and Black George was murdered.

After the Obenovitch rule had lasted for some years the people became tired of their rule and elected Prince Alexander, son of Black Gorge, to the throne. His rule lasted for 17 years, during which time, in 1856, by the treaty of Paris, Servia was taken under the collective protection of the European powers.

King Milan of the Obenovitch family, secured the throne in 1878, but abdicated in favor of his son, King Alexander, in 1889.

It is called to mind that King Alexander's grand uncle, Prince Obenovitch, was assassinated on the night of June 10, 1868, as the result of an almost identical conspiracy. Then, as in the present case, the plan was to place Prince Peter Karageorgevitch on the throne. The former plot failed, and King Milan succeeded Michael. Prince Peter was exiled and has lived for the greater part of the intervening time at Geneva.

ARMY IS IN CONTROL; PEOPLE DO NOT CARE

Servian in Pittsburgh Says the Populace Is Accustomed to Insurrections.

Servians in America are losing no sleep over the revolution which so suddenly terminated the Obrenovitch dynasty. Political disturbances are common in Servia, and for years scarcely a month has passed in which the streets of Belgrade were not reddened by blood spilled in riot or assassination. The people have become accustomed to the gleam of bayonets and the clashing of swords and yesterday's calamity was not altogether unexpected.

There are not more than 100 Servians in Pittsburgh. The natives of the troubled country are closely allied to the Croatians, and the majority of Servian immigrants on this side of the Atlantic come from the ranks of the exiles in Austria. There is a small colony of Servians in McKeesport and in the eastern part of the state they are quite numerous.

Georg Janovic, a fruit peddler of Mulberry alley and Seventeenth street, is one of the more intelligent Servians here. He was born in Belgrade, but his parents, with thousands of others, emigrated into Austria and later came to the United States. Yesterday he said the common people took little interest in the government and were subservient to the will of the military leaders. The army, he said, is really the controlling power, and when the monarch attempted to thwart the schemes of the officers it was not difficult to inflame the whole populace to insurrection.

ONE WHO PLOTTED ASSASSINATION.

NICHOLAS, PRINCE OF MONTENEGRO,
Father-in-Law of the New King of Servia, and One of the Plotters Against the King Who Was Assassinated.

NOTICE OF THE TRAGEDY SENT FROM EUROPE IN ADVANCE

That King Alexander would be assassinated seems to have been generally known in Europe in advance. In The Gazette office for two days has been the following special correspondence furnished by Henry W. Fischer of New York, who has one of the best European news bureaus in existence, but which was not to be released for publication until Sunday:

BUDAPEST, June —. The report that Prince Nicholas of Montenegro is at the head of the conspiracy seeking to solve the Balkan imbroglio by the murder of King Alexander of Servia, is fully substantiated, for it has leaked out that his royal highness of the Black mountains hired the mayor of Belgrade to arrange for street riots, in the course of which the assassination should be accomplished without exposing the plot. Alexander is a hot-headed fellow and might rush into the midst of the trouble if provoked. The mayor was expected to "provoke" Alexander by saying that his presence was necessary for the preservation of order. It is claimed that Prince Nicholas had secured the consent of Italy and Russia for this scheme, which, however, miscarried for the time being, owing to the fact that a letter from one of the chief conspirators to the mayor of Belgrade, giving secret instructions, was intercepted. Incidentally, it was agreed that Queen Draga, her brother and sister be put out of the way.

SERVIA RULED BY INTRIGUES

People Thoroughly Oriental and Western Civilization Does Not Appeal to Them.

NOBILITY KILLED BY TURKS

Only the Peasants Left to Live in the Country and Pay the Taxes—The Rise and the Fall of the Two Reigning Houses.

Servia is sparsely settled, and western civilization does not appeal to the people, as they are as thoroughly oriental as the Turk. Politics is their leading amusement, and they are nearly always embroiled in internecine strife.

The wily Turk, having had experience of centuries with them, took the precaution of killing off their nobility and gentry and leaving only the peasants to feed the swine (the leading Servian industry aside from political entrigue) and pay the taxes. The grandfather of the present king, George Czerny, originally George Petrovitch, gave the Turk his first trouble after the suppression of the nobility. He was a peasant, born in 1766, and he led a revolt against Turkey in 1804. He was driven from Servia in 1813 and took refuge in Austria. He was suspected by the Servians of dealing with the Turk. He was assassinated in 1817 by the Obrenovitch party. The Turks gave him the name of Kara-George, which means "Black George." The Obrenovitches gained the throne and held it until 1842, when Alexander Kara-Georgevitch, son of "Black George," overthrew them and was proclaimed Prince of Servia. He was succeeded by Prince Milosch Obrenovitch in 1842 and expelled from Servia. Prince Milosch was succeeded by his son, Prince Michael, who was assassinated in 1868 by the Kara-Georgevitch party. The Obernovitches reigned with more or less difficulty until now, and obtained the title of king on the recognition of the Servian independence after the Turko-Russian war. The notorious King Milan was the father of the ruler assassinated today. Alexander was born August 14, 1876. He ascended the throne when his father, Milan, abdicated in 1889. His mother was Queen Natalie, daughter of Colonel Keschko, of the Russian imperial guard.

The Belgrade court is a mine of intrigues and after the oriental fashion, government is almost entirely by intriguing favorites. Queen Draga was the real ruler and was extremely unpopular. This enabled the Kara-Georgevitch party to easily accomplish the "revolution."

King Milan, the father of Alexander, spent much of his time and all of his money in Paris. He began an intrigue in Belgrade and threatened the government with downfall every time he was hard up, which was at frequent intervals. He ran his course quickly, lost his influence and died in Vienna in 1901.

Relatives of New Servian King.

PRINCE MIRKO OF MONTENEGRO
Brother-in-Law of King Peter Karageorgevitch.

PRINCESS NATALIE.
Wife of Prince Mirko.

Prince Mirko is the second son of the reigning prince of Montenegro credited with planning the assassination. His wife, Natalie, or Lilly, Constantinovitch, is a distant relative of the king who was killed, as her father was a cousin of the late King Milan, father of Alexander. She was a goddaughter of Ex-Queen Natalie, Milan's wife and Alexander's mother.

DRAGA'S POWER BEHIND THRONE

King Alexander but Putty in Her Hands During Most of His Reign.

Alexander I. was born August 1, 1876, and succeeded his father, King Milan, who abdicated in favor of his son March 6, 1889, after divorcing his consort, Queen Natalie. While he was crown prince Alexander accompanied his mother into exile after her separation from the king, but was forcibly taken from her in Berlin and conveyed back to Belgrade. Soon after his ascension to the throne King Alexander scandalized the Servian court and other royal circles of Europe by marrying Draga Mechem, who had been his mother's lady in waiting. Many stories have been circulated of violent quarrels between the royal couple and only recently it was reported that the king was about to divorce the queen.

It was on July 30, 1900, that Alexander married Draga. She was about 40 years of age and had a son about 16 years of age. She was no beauty, but a very fascinating woman. She had unusual mental gifts and uncommon refinement. The announcement of the king's betrothal to her caused a sensation throughout Servia and commotion in Vienna. The king was made aware of the opposition to the marriage, but he was not turned from his purpose. One fine morning on the walls of Belgrade was found posted a long-winded proclamation of the king to his people, drawn up by himself, in which he said he would not marry a princess, that she whom he had selected was a daughter of the Servian people and would bring happiness to her husband, as did his grandfather's wife to hers. He (Alexander), with his wife, Draga, would set his people an example of a good marriage and a moral family life.

The cabinet was perplexed at this startling proclamation. There was a stormy sitting. Not only the ministry, but also the council of state declared against the proposed marriage; the president of the skuptschina and the metropolitan, the head of the Servian church, implored the king not to persist in his infatuation, but all was in vain. The ministry resigned, and affairs were in bad shape for some time.

After his marriage to Draga it was said that she was about to present an heir to the throne, but she did not, and later she confessed that she tried to hoodwink the king by passing off a child of her sister's as her own. Later Draga tried to commit suicide by swallowing poison. She was snubbed by the czarina, who refused to meet her, and also by the wives of foreign envoys in Belgrade. Once when the populace showed their hatred for the queen the king took her in his carriage and, aided by troops forced the people to cheer for her.

Former Queen Natalie was the daughter of Pierre Ivanovitch Kichko, and was born May 2, 1859. She was married to King Milan, October 11, 1875, and was divorced from him in October, 1888.

The causes which precipitated the present revolution were many, but back of it all can be seen popular hatred for Queen Draga. Ever since her marriage to Alexander her hand has been manifest in the rule of the country. Jealousy arose among the other court dignitaries and quickly spread to the common people. Added to this were her efforts on several occasions to have one of her brothers appointed successor to the throne. While the Servian people had no serious objections to a change of dynasty now and then they did object strenuously to any of Draga's family ruling them. To add to the irritation growing in the popular mind, Alexander, on several occasions, took things completely away from the hands of the skuptschina, the Servian parliament.

Flag Day—Which Is the Day?

The Flag Day and its Day.

From the N. Y. Sun.

Here is a timely letter: To the Editor of the Sun—"As Flag Day, June 14, falls on Sunday, will you be so kind as to let me know what is the proper day to put out Old Glory, Sunday or Monday? And oblige—Old Glory." The government flies the Stars and Stripes on Sunday as on other days; consequently Old Glory should be hoisted next Sunday. As in the case of any celebration, which falls on Sunday, the popular habit is to observe it on the Monday following, put the flag up on that particular Monday and join the crowd in making the day appropriately festal. Again, as some people are sure to celebrate Flag Day on the previous Saturday, that day being somewhat in the nature of a holiday anyway, they too should be sympathized with and the flag should be flown on Saturday. Every day of every other week is also a good time to display the National flag. Long and often may it be waved.

And this is to give notice that on the Fifth Floor we have every size in Flags, beginning with the little mounted Silk Flag for 3c and on through the range to the immense Flag of U. S. Wool Bunting—24 feet by 40 feet—for $55.

Friday, June 12, 1903.

There is little in the struggle of the Thirty-fifth ward school board to warrant its continuance on the present basis. The gentlemen concerned have one paramount duty to perform, and that is to take care of the educational interests of the ward. They should get together and do that, leaving the courts to decide the questions at issue as to who is legally entitled to act with the board. Politics ought never to touch the schools in any form.

Pennsylvania is represented among the preferred class drawing the capital prize at West Point. Pennsylvanians have been equally conspicuous in the famed universities during the days when the scholastic work has been summed up and the commencement exercises performed. Probably Pennsylvania cannot claim to lead in this particular, but it certainly can lay claim to a place in the front rank for its young men and women who are stepping from the college course to the battle of life. The record is one of which no Pennsylvanian need be ashamed.

Prof. George P. Neill has been appointed commissioner, in accord with the eighth award of President Roosevelt's arbitrators, to adjust the sliding scales in the anthracite mining region. He goes to the task with high recommendations as to capability and integrity, and it is among the probabilities that his work may do much to secure peace in that troubled region. A fair adjustment of scales by an impartial authority ought to establish conditions favorable to a growth of confidence between employer and employed—a spirit of fairness that will assume that each side seeks the welfare of the other in lieu of the bitter enmity that has for years taken it for granted on each side that the first object of the other has been to obtain an unfair advantage.

The grand jury yesterday approved the project for the erection of a memorial hall at a cost of $600,000 to $1,000,000 to commemorate the valor of Allegheny county's sons in the war for the union. The matter now reverts to the county commissioners according to the terms of the enabling law. Naturally, the next question will be one of a suitable site for the building. First under consideration by the public will be the one chosen by the committee which worked so long and faithfully to raise a fund by popular subscription for an armory. After that attention turns readily to the Allegheny arsenal on the supposition that the government might be willing to devote it to so patriotic a purpose. It would suffice for a handsome building and a pretty park. No doubt other suggestions will be forthcoming and all should have careful consideration.

Those persons who predicted that the trial of Jett and White for the murder of Attorney Marcum would be a farce went wide of the fact. It has been marked by a series of sensations. In the presence of the protecting military the fear of the wrath of the feudists has not sealed the mouths of witnesses. On the contrary, they have spoken so freely as to suggest the possibility that more than the facts are being told for vengeance's sake. If the testimony is all true, and there is no present reason to question it, a flood of light is being turned on Kentucky methods and feudist morals. In addition to murder, attempted bribery and intimidation are freely charged, the whole being accompanied by recitals of details that indicate strangely perverted ideas of right and justice, as when a man's friends appeal to him to avoid danger by doing wrong. An example of genuine justice would probably be a revelation to the too ready gunners of Breathitt county.

In the hearing on the Junction railroad bridge yesterday the bridge owners presented a most formidable array of facts and reasons why the elevation of the bridge should not be changed, or the grades of approach increased. They contrasted the more than 16,000,000 tons of traffic carried over that bridge last year with the traffic that might, under any circumstances be carried under it, and the statement seems to us to have convincing force. On the other hand the bridge raising contingent abandoned the old contention that a clearance of 28 feet is absolutely essential to river traffic and introduced a petition, signed by many residents of the Allegheny valley, praying for the privilege to navigate the Allegheny river with the craft that passes freely on the Monongahela, Ohio and Mississippi rivers. We believe that many signers of that paper could not have stopped to consider the full purport of their petition. The Monongahela is not now navigable by the huge steamers that ply upon the Ohio and Mississippi. It is, however, navigated by boats that fully meet the needs of its development. It would be quite as reasonable for the people of Pittsburgh to petition to have the bridges at St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati raised sufficiently to permit the passage of ocean liners and full rigged sailing craft. What the people of the Allegheny valley need and should have is a navigable river. They are wasting their energy trying to inflict injury upon Pittsburgh, Allegheny and other interests by raising bridges that do not obstruct navigation, instead of devoting it to expediting the work on locks and dams that is lagging extraordinarily.

Navigation and Bridges.

We have received the following communication from the board of trade of Kittanning. The source from which it emanates entitles it to the fullest and fairest consideration, although it contains an imputation upon the motives and acts of The Gazette, which is in the highest degree unfair both to us and to the interests we represent:

To the Editor of The Gazette:

The members of the board of trade of this place desire to have you state your reasons for assailing the interests of the Allegheny Valley by the publication of statements derogatory to the industrial welfare of the same.

It may not seem pertinent, but as your paper is to some extent the mouthpiece for the people of this neighborhood, it is fair for them to know just in what way you are governed as to the position you now take in this matter of so great importance to them.

A direct answer to the following question will clear up some doubts in the minds of the people of this vicinity:

Has, or have the owners of The Gazette stock in any of the low bridges now stifling navigation on the Allegheny river?

Awaiting an early reply, either through your columns or by letter, we beg to remain. Yours very respectfully,

KITTANNING BOARD OF TRADE.
Lindsay Galbraith, Secretary. Harry R. Gault, President.

We will first state emphatically that no owner of The Gazette is in the slightest degree interested in the stock or securities of any of the bridges affected by the investigation now being carried on by the United States engineer, and we further say in this connection that such ownership would make no difference whatever in our attitude upon a question like the present, which we regard as vital to the business interests of the cities of Pittsburgh and Allegheny. When The Gazette speaks editorially upon such questions it seeks to represent and we believe it does invariably represent the interests of the public and not of any individual or individuals.

Having answered this question it may not be amiss to say a few words with regard to our position upon this important matter. The Gazette is not and never has been in the slightest degree antagonistic to the river interests of Western Pennsylvania. It has always advocated liberal appropriations for the improvement of our rivers, and we hope to see the day when the Allegheny and Ohio rivers through government aid will be navigable all the year around from Oil Creek to the Mississippi. If the raising of the bridges between Pittsburgh and Allegheny were absolutely necessary to bring this about, we would advocate such raising at whatever cost; but we do not believe such action to be necessary, and the damage to the business of both cities would be so great that it should not be undertaken, at least until it is clearly and thoroughly demonstrated to be a necessity. In years gone by a line of steamers regularly plied the Allegheny from the foot of Seventh street to Franklin. These steamers passed under what is now known as the Ninth street bridge, the old aqueduct, the Sixteenth street bridge and the Sharpsburg bridge without detriment. With continuous deeper water, which will follow the proposed river improvements, an improved system of steamboat architecture can surely be devised that will render it unnecessary to make of these bridges a barrier between the two cities, instead of a ready means of passage as they now are. With all deference to the gentlemen who are looking after our river interests, and with due acknowledgment of their vigorous public spirit, we believe they are narrow-minded and short-sighted in the course they are pursuing. Let them experiment intelligently and thoroughly with new types of river craft before seeking to inflict the almost irreparable injury that will result from this wholesale bridge raising. If such experiments result in failure it will then be time enough to raise the bridges as a last resort.

More Light Turned On.

What a Rothschild may say concerning American securities does not add a cent's worth of intrinsic value to or substract a cent's worth from the intrinsic value of any one American security, but the expressed opinion of a Rothschild concerning the merits of American securities and the causes for the slump in quotations for them is wonderfully illuminating. The London Rothschild, to tell it in one sentence, says Americans have been forced to sell their American stocks to protect their foreign investments. It is not that American securities are less valuable than foreign investments, but the foreigners refused to oblige the Americans by relieving them of their foreign load, and our countrymen who were thus left to bear a burden of their own seeking were compelled to lessen the weight that was handicapping them by disposing of securities they had where there was a market for them—even a declining one. So far are foreigners from considering that there is any danger in the American situation that Lord Rothschild is himself an investor on the decline and is able to tell of one friend who on Wednesday of this week spent a million dollars for American securities and who yesterday morning repeated the performance.

The expressions to which this great financier gives publicity will be like a burst of sunlight through clouds to persons whose fears have been aroused by the downward course in Wall street. Most of them have felt certain that things here are just as good as he says they are, but confidence was weakening because of lack of knowledge of all the causes that operated to make prices of securities run counter to known business conditions. Of course, all have been aware of the contentions and strife of the big men in the financial world, and heard much concerning undigested securities, before and since Mr. Morgan put the stamp of his private mint on the term and thereby gave it increased weight and vogue. But added to these things, on which all eyes have been fixed, has been this other cause that ought to have been taken into consideration (for it has not been hidden under a bushel), but which was generally unconsidered. Unfortunately the necessity under which some Americans may have found themselves to unload home investments to take care of foreign purchases has not stopped with them, but has created necessities for persons here who have little or no relation to the situation abroad. These have suffered vicariously and unwillingly and unwittingly.

If, while Americans have suffered through undigested foreign investments, foreigners have profited to get in on the ground floor of the American market, and Rothschild seems to indicate as much, the circumstance will take some of the starch out of the American pride that has been boasting itself of world conquest. Of course, Rothschild says in his preface that "Europe has scarcely any American securities to sell," but that does not necessarily mean that Europe is without American securities to keep, especially when we remember his friend who invested $2,000,000 in them in two days. The last English loan, a matter of a few weeks ago, was over-subscribed many fold. The surplus from this could have found rich pickings in the American market, and it is probable that some of it came this way.

Servian Assassinations.

By assassination an end has been put to one disreputable royal family in Servia and the events to follow may put the other out of business. The descendants of Kara-George, the liberator of Servia, have done little to reflect credit upon the name; those of the traitor Senator Obrenovitch have done nothing to relieve the stain of the treacherous assassination by which they came into possession of the throne. Turkish government is probably the worst that could befall a province, yet it can hardly be contended that Servia has fared any better by gaining its independence.

We are wont to cry out against the violence of our Latin-American neighbors, with their perpetual revolutions. Nothing in their history, however, compares with the revolutionary outbreaks of Servia. European governments, looking askance at the Monroe doctrine, advise the United States to curb the irresponsibility of the South American states, while they are unable to restrain the volatile kingdoms and principalities of the Balkans. While the white man endeavors to carry the burdens of the black and brown races, his civilized representatives are not quite equal to the task of preserving order among the white irresponsibles.

In connection with the tragedy at Belgrade no one appears to mourn the victims. The people of Servia are, or pretend to be, satisfied with their sudden change of government and the abnormal cruelty by which it was brought about. Such being the case the chief matter of interest is as to the probable effect upon the balance of power in Europe. The assassinated king favored Austria. The proclaimed ruler, by reason of his personal and family associations, is expected to favor Russia. It is possible that international politics may have played a part in the plot, but it is more probable the present advantage of Russia was unsought beyond the far-slightest favors extended to a pretender to a throne that has so often passed by violence.

It is a perplexing problem in the courts of Europe what to do in the premises. It is difficult to recognize a dynasty created by such means as have been employed by the adherents of Karageorgevitch. It seems like encouragement for the growing disregard for the "divine right of kings." It is dangerous to refuse to recognize the new government or to interfere with the current of events. If all Europe could agree it might be easy, but all Europe cannot agree and each individual power trembles before any prospect of active disagreement. These facts will lend interest to the tragedy and its results for some time to come.

Diffusing Prosperity.

It is said that owing to the increase in track facilities and motive power the railroads operating between Pittsburgh and lake ports will this year handle 35 or 40 per cent more business than they did last year. It is estimated, for example, that the Pennsylvania and Bessemer roads will each handle two million tons more of freight than they did last year. This means greatly increased prosperity for the railroads, and assures to stockholders a continuance of dividends. But this largely increased traffic of the railroads means much more to the public than dividends for owners of railroad shares. If there is more ore coming to Pittsburgh from the lake ports and more coal and coke going from the Pittsburgh district to the lake terminals for shipment elsewhere, it is, of course, in answer to a demand. The demand may be no stronger than last year, but at that time the railroads were the weak link in the chain, and because of this weakness producer and consumer were so badly served that their best efforts to get together in exchange of commodities were badly hampered. Now that the railroads are better able to serve shippers the result will be that the mills will have an abundance of material and will not be compelled to shut down for lack of supplies. It also means that the mines of this region, which frequently last season were shut down because they could not be supplied with cars, or because the loaded cars could not be taken away for lack of motive power, will this season continue almost uninterrupted production. With increased track facilities and an adequate supply of locomotives and cars, enabling shipments to be promptly made, the labor of this region will be more regularly employed than during last year, and more money will be put into circulation than ever before by the mills and mines. If other things are equal the statement often made that Pittsburgh is only in the infancy of its industrial and business expansion ought to be verified. The movement of several million more tons of freight between this city and lake ports alone is an eloquent prophecy of it, and it means also that prosperity, with Pittsburgh as its center, will be as widely diffused as are the products of this region.

ISTHMIAN CANAL TREATY.

Despite the assurance that the United States will not construct the canal on the basis of less than the degree of jurisdiction granted by the treaty there is a pronounced opposition in Colombia to demand a material weakening of our privileges along the canal strip as defined by the pending treaty. But the responsible officials at Bogota doubtless realize by this time that the American position in that respect is unshakable. Sovereignty of the kind described in the treaty is the indispensable element in the bargain. As to the consideration it should also be clear at Bogota that the United States considers that it has been exceptionally generous to Colombia in granting a cash payment of $10,000,000 and an annuity of $250,000.

The United States has nothing to do with any designs Colombia may have upon the $40,000,000 to be paid to the Panama Canal Company upon the final passing of the property. Nor is it likely that this government will be bluffed by threats to defeat the treaty into raising the bonus one penny. This summer should see the case settled as far as Colombia is concerned, either by the ratification of the treaty or by its defeat or indefinite postponement or debate leading to the absolute and irrevocable withdrawal of the canal by the president from Colombian consideration.—Washington Star.

Many persons in the United States would be glad to see the treaty rejected by Colombia so as to give us a chance to secure the waterway along the Nicaragua route. That was the original course which was urged. Very few Americans, even as recently as three years ago, thought of the route by Panama as one of the possibilities. The Nicaragua route was the only one that was deemed to be feasible or desirable. Those persons would be glad to see that route selected now.

There is peril for Colombia in this issue. If she gives the United States an incentive for building the canal through Nicaragua the Panama waterway will never be opened. A canal can not be built there or anywhere else on the isthmus unless it is built by the United States, and this country will never build one at Panama if it selects the Nicaragua route now. No European country would build, or attempt to build, at Panama if we turn away from that course and select the Nicaragua line. Europe would be shut out from building a canal anywhere on the isthmus in any case by the Monroe principle. One isthmian canal is all that would be needed. It is a condition, therefore, and not a theory, that confronts Colombia. A rejection of the treaty will mean that the canal will be built at Nicaragua instead of Panama, and the work already done at the latter place will never be finished.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

\+ \+ \+

The aggravating action of Colombia in regard to the canal treaty has caused threats of going back to the Nicaragua route. It is hardly probable that there is any serious contemplation of that, but our government should have completed its bargain with Colombia before it committed itself so fully to the Panama route. The complications may result in the United States being obliged to take what is needed by force, and that would probably have a bad effect on the Spanish-American republics. However, even that result would be better than the abandonment of the canal project.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

The act of congress authorizing the United States to proceed with the task of constructing an isthmian canal, happily does not limit the enterprise to a single route. If the right of way through Colombia cannot be obtained on reasonable conditions this government has the authority to enter into negotiations with Nicaragua for the purpose of obtaining that country's consent to the building of the canal through its territory, and there is every indication that the authority will be promptly exercised, in case the Colombian congress concludes to block the great enterprise instead of promptly encouraging it by ratifying the treaty.

We are still loth to conclude, however, that Colombia will be so foolish as to stand in the way of her own best interests and attempt to delay one of the greatest undertakings of modern times inspired thereto by pure, unadulterated greed of that sort which invariably overreaches itself.—Scranton Republican.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

The Rev. Dr. Theodore Bratton, recently elected Protestant Episcopal bishop of Mississippi, has selected St. Andrew's church in Jackson as the place for his consecration late in July.

Maj. J. E. Burke, the blacksmith who was recently declared mayor of Burlington by the Vermont supreme court upon a recount of ballots, began his reform administration by discharging the chief of police and assuming charge himself.

John Sargent, the famous portrait painter, has a morbid dread of publicity. For 20 years he resisted all efforts of photographers to get him in front of a camera, and only consented recently because a "fake" picture printed in a newspaper has been extensively copied.

What is it all about?

About the weather, the crops, the condition of the country—about anything you like.

With so many good texts before you, what is to hinder you from getting up a column of good stuff, even if the barometer is down to the suicide notch?

Next to suicide comes the servant trouble, and with it comes the worry about getting something to eat, the worry of eating it, and the worry after eating it.

Burton, the chap who wrote the famed, but little-read "Anatomy of Melancholy," says: "Every man has a good or a bad angel attending on him in particular, all his life long."

And we have good, or bad, cooks with us as long as life lasts, or nearly, for we die shortly after turning our backs on the cook, or the cook's face has been turned to the wall for good and all.

It would be interesting to know the extent and power of the influence exerted on men by cooks and cookery. You know, yourself, that cooking does affect a man's disposition more or less. And you may have had bright prospects knocked into a cocked hat, and sweet dreams all broken up, by a bit of poor cooking; or may be, by no cookery, your wife having overstayed somewhere, or the cook having gone on a strike, or to get married.

It is not only pleasant to eat, but to drink and be merry at the same time. But how are you going to do all this unless you have a cook? And if, as Garrick says, the devil sends the cooks, how are you to be certain of deriving pleasure from cooking?

When we stop, if only for a moment, and think of the misery existing in the land at this moment, due to indigestion for which we hold the cook mainly responsible, are we not almost persuaded to say Garrick was right, quite right?

But if your wife is cook, then it is different, or, is it?

This, however, is a matter for you to settle without any outside interference. It may be all the more satisfactory to you should you even bar your wife from the conference.

Like the weather, the servant girl is an everlimely subject, and is in order anywhere, even in church after the sermon, between acts at the opera, and on the trolley, if the wind rush is not too great.

Boston women have taken the matter into serious consideration and threaten to settle it. They have designed a school for making good servants in a six weeks' course of training. They say it can be done, and you know that when Boston women say a thing can be done it can be, and is as good as done—in fact it is done, in their minds.

Schools for servants are all right, as far as servants are concerned, but until they get schools for "missusses," and particularly for young wives who don't know plum-duff from drop-dumplings, servant girls will have a hard time of it.

Just think of the thousands of good, honest, industrious servant girls who are wearing themselves out in bootless efforts to please wives who don't know what they want, nor how to get what they think they want, nor wouldn't know it if laid before them.

These are the angels the servant girl has to deal with, and she is nearly sure of having a dell of a time.

Ever since woman was, man has been her best friend and most valiant defender. Following are a few items by a gentleman, one who knows good women well, and he is entirely capable of setting them right before the public:

Mr. Quiet Observer: It is often said that this is the woman's century. It might more truly be said that this is the century in which women are on trial, with a tolerably fair field open to them in which they may have opportunity to more clearly define and decide the relative position they are entitled to.

The claim to occupy a place in all ways on a parity with men, can hardly be sustained for reasons which seem out of their power to change and which have existed in greater or lesser degree since the creation. One of these is the superior power of the man as a defender. In the earlier centuries when the strong hand was ruler, this manly force had the largest recognition. It is less in degree today, but still exists from the simpler refuge from the terrific mouse, to the heroic defense of a nation and the accompanying swords and death.

In these peaceful times force is less present and defense less needed, and in so far the relation of man and woman has become modified to the woman's advantage.

A large differential exists now, as well as in the past, in the fact of the man being the provider. This has been more or less an essential difference in all ages. Less in a period when the woman was indeed a helpmate, and when, if Adam delved Eve span; more in a later age, when, while Adam delved harder than ever, Eve almost ceased spinning, and less, again, when the opportunities grew greater where women, too, could be breadwinners. Their opportunities have been so many that the woman is often better paid than the man.

The domestic servant receives more money than the laboring man, and generally without as much proficiency in their lines as the man possesses in his, and this, despite the fact that the average laborer has to support several of a family by his own efforts alone. An advertisement for laborers will bring ten capable men who desire work where not a single equally capable woman will apply for domestic service.

Dressmakers who have some little deftness in their line are in great demand and receive more compensation than the small mechanic who has a family to support. In larger lines women are not so well paid because of the uncertainty of their services. Marriage taking them out of the field, and reasonable expectation of it, prevents the fullest efficiency.

It would seem, then, that in many and increasing ways, woman's opportunities are becoming more on a par with those of man. They are found almost everywhere in occupations where men alone were formerly employed, as doctors, lawyers, lecturers, salesmen, as stenographers, mechanics and lower classes of labor in many lines they have driven men out altogether, and their steps are still upward and onward.

The superiority of men as defenders has somewhat lost its force, as only spasmodic opportunities offer for its demonstration.

THE JUNE GROOM'S SONG.

I'm sick of the song of the bride and her bloom—
Just harken to me for a while—I'm the groom.
I know I've no rights in the case, but alas—
That's right—all I got in the case is a lass!
I know I'm supposed to be silent and meek,
But, hang it! I'm bound to get reckless and speak.

They're buzzing about what the bride is to wear;
They're buzzing about how she'll fix her hair;
They're quarreling over the bridal bouquet—
I listen in silence to all that they say.
They treat me as though I was chained to my doom—
Alack! what am I? I am only the groom.

The best I can don is some black and some white,
A horse-collar vest and a bad case of fright;
My hair will be combed as it's combed every day,
I'd surely get mobbed if I hugged a bouquet;
I've got to be meek and try bravely to smile—
The meekness will stand me in hand after while.

Sing on of the beautiful bride and her bloom;
But don't mention me—I am only the groom;
Just say "he was dressed in conventional black,"
Then kindly forget me and hasten right back
To rave o'er the bride till you're black in the face—
I'm only the groom, and I'm learning my place.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Had blood shed perpetually between the theatrical profession and the organization familiarly known as the "Gerry society." This organization, officially called the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, was instrumental in having a law put through forbidding children of less than 16 years of age singing and dancing on the stage in a public performance. All kinds of squabbles have arisen from the enforcement of the law and the general feeling of theatrical managers is that the law is a foolish and cruel one. It deprives many young folk of a means of earning a living, while even baby stars are allowed to labor in close rooms with little or no interference. No less distinguished a man than Sir Henry Irving, at a public meeting in London lately, inveighed bitterly against the interference of children earning money by their profession. With all this in people's minds the S. P. C. C. of New York has issued a mandate that 500 children who have been rehearsing for an entertainment in the Bronx for charity must not appear. Mayor Low has been asked to interfere. He said he could not do so, but would intercede with the officials of the society. The chances are two to one that the children will not take part in the performance, although they have been rehearsing for the past three months.

Moving Platforms Still Talked of.

Moving platforms for the new bridges over the East river, as well as for the present one, is still discussed, although not much has been heard of them lately. Comptroller Grout is non-committal on the subject, but it is generally supposed that some contrivance of the kind for getting people over the bridges without compelling them to crowd into cars will be adopted eventually.

Republic Furnished Three Victims.

It was remarked by a well-known senator in the Waldorf-Astoria this evening that while seven rulers of nations had been killed in less than 40 years, the first and last in that period, excepting the Servian king and queen, were presidents of the United States. President Lincoln was killed in 1865 and President McKinley in 1901.

Afflicted Girl Is a Wonder.

New York is much interested just now in Katie McGirr, the deaf, dumb and blind girl, who, according to Dr. Currier of the New York Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, is more of a wonder in her way than Helen Keller. Miss McGirr, who is 20 years of age, talks, reads, works the typewriter and does other things which may seem almost impossible to a person so afflicted. Besides these she rides a bicycle. To be sure it is a tandem, but from the manner in which she does it no one doubts that she could ride by herself if she had a road free from the many obstructions of a great city.

Hard to Pick Winners.

These are great days for "mud horses" at Gravesend. The condition of the track is decidedly heavy and followers of the horses, who congregate each evening at the corner of Broadway and Forty-second street, are prone to corrugate their brows as they pore over dope sheets or discuss with acquaintances the chances of such-and-such a horse. When the track is good it is comparatively easy to figure out the percentage of winnings in the past as applied to the future. Then the horsemen are not so worried, taking things as they come. It is the muddy track that jars them, some of them remarked plaintively to me this evening.

Recovering Damages from the Subway.

Now that the landlord of the Everett house, facing Union square, has won his suit for damages suffered from subway operations, there will no doubt be other attempts by landlords to get money out of somebody on the same account. The verdict obtained by the Everett house man will not stand until it has been appealed through other courts, but the fact that he has been successful so far will encourage others of his business to try for some recompense for the suffering and losses that have fallen upon them throughout the smoke, noise and blasting of the rapid transit tunnel.

Police on Lookout for "Swag."

More silver plate has been found by the police and it is assumed that it is part of some burglar's swag. Since the stealing of $2,000 worth of silver tableware on the roof of a house a week ago, the police have been walking about with one eye on the ground perpetually. This is the season when householders are particularly active in the uptown residence districts, attacking houses where owners are in Europe or somewhere else out of town. The finding of three bundles of loot within a week indicates that burgling in Manhattan is not quite such an easy graft as it used to be.

Still Another Theater Projected.

Another theater was sprung on Broadway this afternoon—on a large sign. The sign is in front of the building on the east side of Broadway, where the Parker house has stood and been raided by the police at intervals for some years. On the sign is the announcement that "Felix Isman will build a burlesque theater on this site, which will be opened in January under the direction of Klaw & Erlanger." The announcement came as a shock to Broadway loungers, who had not expected another theater, and in such a spot. It has been thought that no one would build a new theater below Forty-second street—except Oscar Hammerstein, whose Drury Lane, in Thirty-fourth street, is progressing merrily between strikes. Klaw & Erlanger know what they are doing usually, and it is accepted as a certainty that the new house will be a good one, though it is next door to a grocery.

Advance in Brooklyn Realty.

Brooklyn may be a slow borough, as the haughty New Yorker insists, but it is worth a great deal more per square foot than it was 40 years ago. Hugh McLaughlin, the venerable Tammany leader of that part of Greater New York, realized that today in the course of negotiations with the city looking to the sale by him to the municipality of three plots of land which, roughly speaking, is about 300 feet square. He bought this property in 1868 for $31,000 and expects to get $400,000 for it now. It is wanted for part of an approach to Prospect park. He has other lots of real estate in Brooklyn and for each of them he is pretty sure to get many times the sum he paid for them.

But wishing that, she lost all else in life
That's worth the strife—

HIRED MAN IS BOSS.

The honesty of baseball was never better illustrated than at Exposition park on Wednesday. Umpire O'Day was ill, and it was necessary for two players to act—Douglass of Philadelphia and Phillippe of Pittsburgh. In the course of the game there were two "kicks." Manager Clarke objected to one of Phillippe's decisions. The discussion began to warm up.

"Back to the field or back to the bench for you," said Phillippe. A look of disgust overspread the face of the manager so boarded by one of his hired men, but for once the hired man was king, and Clarke calmly strode out into his little garden.

Not long after this Manager Zimmer thought he saw something overlooked by Douglass, and told him so.

"You fellows play ball, and I'll look after the decisions," was all he drew. He scratched his head a moment, then ambled back to his place on the coaching line. The player-umpire made the manager look like a dead one for the time being, and the game went on.

THEFT AND CONFESSION.

In one of the downtown banks the other day, the balance sheet showed $30 missing. That started trouble for the whole institution. Until nearly midnight the whole force was kept busy searching for that half century, but to no avail. The search continued the next day and the next, but nowhere could be found a trace of the short change. Finally it was given up, but the matter was not allowed to rest there. The loss was narrowed down to three or four clerks, and their records were thoroughly investigated. Not a trace of gambling or drinking was found, but every man in the bank who could have gotten his hands on the money felt the finger of suspicion pointing his way.

The situation was tense for nearly a week. Then one morning, a Catholic clergyman called on the cashier. In the confessional he had been told by a penitent that $30 too much money had been paid him when cashing a check at the bank.

This cleared the mystery, and it did more. The investigation pending the discovery had shown the management of the bank that it had the most thoroughly regular and honorable set of employes it would be possible to accumulate—and now every man of them expects a raise in salary.

A Noiseless Fourth.

Several cities are endeavoring to arrange matters so that the Fourth of July will be free from crackers, bombs, pistol shooting and the other forms of noise-making which create a pandemonium at each recurrence of the nation's natal day. Why not a wise and reverend fathers of the city get one to "do" with but the adult population, that highly desirable result, a noiseless celebration, would be reasonably easy of accomplishment. But the small boy is the factor which must be dealt with, says the Toledo Blade. To him the day is not the Fourth unless he can make all the noise possible, with all the crackers and other din-producing combinations of villainous saltpetre which his hoarded nickels will enable him to purchase. This much can be done. The exuberance of the boys can be curbed until the day itself. There is neither rhyme nor reason in allowing a fizzing and popping in the streets for several weeks before the Fourth. Keep the boy in order until the day itself, and then all

HARVARD CLAIMS CARNEGIE BOUGHT FOSSILS FOR HER

Harvard is incredulous. Very incredulous. In fact, Harvard is somewhat angry. Harvard may be angrier when her incredulity is carried away by the cold exposition of facts. There is no reasonable reason, according to Dr. W. J. Holland, curator of the museum, to doubt that the Carnegie museum is the owner of the Baron DeHayet collection of fossils, as told in yesterday's Gazette, but Harvard insists that Mr. Carnegie bought that collection, not for the Carnegie museum at Pittsburgh, but for Harvard.

"I know how Harvard got that idea," said Dr. Holland. "Harvard sure enough wanted the collection, so did the Imperial museum of St. Petersburg. So did the British museum of London. But the bid which I made at Mr. Carnegie's instruction, was accepted, and I have the cablegram here from the baron accepting the offer I made."

HAYS' DEFENSE IS OUTLINED

City Solicitor Rodgers Will Attempt to Prove Act Is Unconstitutional.

NO DATE FIXED FOR TRIAL

Fact That Moore Was Removed from Office Before Mayor's Elective Term Had Begun Will Form Part of the Defense—Hard Fight Is Promised.

When Mayor William B. Hays comes to trial for having discharged Samuel Moore, ordinance officer and war veteran, his defense will be that the act under which he was indicted is unconstitutional. This statement was made yesterday by City Solicitor William B. Rodgers, the administration's legal advisor. The fact that Moore was discharged before the mayor's elective term had begun will also constitute a part of the defense.

No time has yet been fixed for the trial. A hard fight is certain. Mr. Rodgers says that the case will be carried to the highest possible tribunal to determine on the act's constitutionality. The law will not be attacked as being class legislation according to Mr. Rodgers. He says there are other more serious objections to the act than that, and he thinks he will be able to convince the court that the law is not constitutional.

The dismissal of Moore was made under the schedule of the new charter while the chief executive was still recorder by appointment of the governor. His elective term had not yet commenced when Moore was removed. The act was done under a provision of the schedule which permitted the removal of every employe, which was done at that time, although a number were taken back.

The ripper schedule which was made part of the new charter after designating the number and names of the department officers and providing for their appointments, has the following provision relative to dismissals:

Said recorders may appoint the successors of said officers as provided in this schedule, and the officials so appointed shall have power and are hereby authorized to remove any and all of the officers and employes and persons holding positions and employment in their respective departments, and appoint their successors, and the persons so appointed shall be governed and controlled by this act.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT RETURNS TO HIS DESK

Senator Platt of New York Will Have Important Conference With Him Today.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, June 11.—At 2 o'clock this afternoon President Roosevelt, Miss Alice Roosevelt, Secretary Loeb and the others who accompanied President Roosevelt to Cleveland to attend the McCormick-Hanna wedding returned from Cleveland. The president and his daughter and secretary went at once to the White House, where the president will take up his work. Secretary Loeb stated that the trip was greatly enjoyed.

Tomorrow morning Senator Platt of New York will come to Washington to see President Roosevelt. It will be the first meeting between the president and Mr. Platt since the Ohio convention indorsed Mr. Roosevelt. Conditions have so far changed since the two men last met that they may well at this time take up matters of the greatest importance in relation to the coming national campaign.

President Roosevelt's nomination having become assured over a year ahead of the meeting of the national convention, questions will come up at this time that under many other conditions of doubt about such an important matter would not be considered so soon. L. W. STRAYER.

ANOTHER CONTRACTOR TURNS AGAINST PARKS

Business Agent Carvel of Derrickmen's Union Held in $2,000 Bail.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—Samuel J. Parks, business agent of the housesmiths' and bridgemen's union, was arrested this afternoon on a fourth charge of extortion, on information made by Josephus Plenty, a contractor. Richard Carvel, business agent of the derrickmen's union, who was arrested last night charged with extortion, was held in $2,000 bail.

Plenty, in his affidavit, says he gave Parks a check for $200 for settling a strike. District Attorney Jerome examined a number of contractors this afternoon, and when the time arrived when he had an appointment with Parks and his attorney, Brann, the latter entered the criminal court building without the former.

"Where is Parks?" the district attorney asked.

"I could not get him," replied Brann.

"You can get him, and what is more, you will have to get him," said Mr. Jerome. "You know where he is just as well as I do. Now you bring him here or I will send my own men out to get him."

Former Magistrate Brann left the building and soon returned with Parks.

Mercer County Man Waited Until Moving Van Came, Then Killed Himself.

SHARON, PA., June 11.—(Special)—Michael Knapp, one of the best known hotel proprietors in Mercer county, shot himself in the head with a 38-caliber revolver today, dying almost instantly. Knapp had just completed a fine three-story hotel in Sharpsville, and his family was preparing to move into it. The moving van had driven up to the door of the house where Knapp and his family have lived.

One piece of furniture had been carried out when Knapp walked back into the house and committed suicide. He was 56 years old. Financial troubles were probably the cause. His wife and three grown children survive: Mrs. Nicholas Mohler, Mrs. John Herrman, Mrs. James Greese, Mrs. George Mahoney, Anna, Mary and Gertrude.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS REMOVED COAL IN ENGINES

Passenger Trains Moved on Time Despite Strike on Chesapeake & Ohio.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 11.—The strike of the 1,500 employes at the Chesapeake & Ohio shops, because of the railroad company refusing to discharge one of the foremen, promises to enter other shops along the system, and may eventually involve the engineers and firemen. President Stephens of the Chesapeake & Ohio is here, and says he will have the shops closed for good before he will be forced to take up a fight in local politics.

As there were no employes at work in the round house this morning, it looked as though all passenger trains would be delayed, as there were no shovelers to coal the engines awaiting. An odd sight was witnessed, however, when a special arrived from Richmond, Va., conveying Superintendent Bonsteel, Fuel Supervisor Welsh, General Superintendent J. Carlisle and Master Mechanic A. P. Stewart, who threw off their coats, and with the assistance of Chief Clerk C. R. Wilson, worked for six hours and coaled many engines, which relieved the situation today and passenger trains moved on time.

MATCHLESS BEAUTY OF CLEARVIEW.

Destined to Become Pittsburgh's Finest Suburb.

Great Care Taken to Maintain the High Character of the Neighborhood — Ideal Place for a Home.

BETTER THAN THE EAST END.

Within the past two days there have been many visitors to Clearview, the beautiful Mt. Lebanon site of what is destined to be the prettiest and most desirable suburb of Pittsburgh. It is a delightful ride of little more than a half hour on the electric cars and the line runs mostly through wooded valleys and past green fields. But there is nothing along the way to prepare one for the lovely landscape that unfolds itself to the delighted eye when the visitor reaches Clearview.

Look in what direction you will there is nothing to mar the perfect beauty of the scene. The low-lying, gently rolling hills that mark the valley here impart a sense of peaceful security. There is just enough dip and swell to the property to relieve the monotony of a dead level and to add a touch of the picturesque. Here a fair orchard bends beneath its burden of ripening fruit. There cowers a giant oak, proudly keeping guard above a sparkling spring of purest water, over which it has spread its cooling, sheltering arms for centuries. Here and there other tall sentinels, survivors of the primeval forest, murmur to the tune of the changes being wrought in the landscape.

But the men who have aimed to make Clearview the ideal residential suburb of Pittsburgh have been very reverential toward Dame Nature. Not only have they been careful to destroy none of the native charm of the place, but wherever they have touched it have added new beauties to the scene.

Its great natural beauty is by no means the only thing that makes Clearview attractive as a place of residence. It is more accessible than East Liberty or even Shadyside, and has all the conveniences of the city. In a short time, when the Mt. Washington tunnel has been completed, it will take just 15 minutes to go from Pittsburgh postoffice to Clearview. The air at Clearview is always pure and bracing. The elevation is high and the property is far from the zone of smoke and grime which envelops Pittsburgh and most of her suburbs. The water supply at Clearview is unsurpassed. Pure and sweet it flows abundantly from springs and artesian wells on the property and Clearview will have its own water works system. Streets are sewered, graded and piped for gas. Clearview has a handsome boulevard and wide, beautiful avenues. The lots are all large—the smallest being 50x135 feet. There is a good school on the adjoining property.

Wise restrictions, both as to the building lines and as to the minimum cost of dwellings to be erected will be enforced. All the other property in the vicinity of Clearview is in the hands of well-to-do people, who either already reside there or intend to build homes there for themselves.

Prices of lots in Clearview range from $500 to $1,250, and a few higher. A reasonable cash deposit is required when choice of lot is made. The balance may be paid within a year in monthly or quarterly payments.

A discount of 10 per cent is allowed for cash. The Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company will advance money on very liberal terms to enable purchasers of lots to build immediately. This money can be repaid in small monthly payments, extending over a period of 10 years. They really represent only a moderate rent for the property, with the difference that the purchaser owns his home clear at the end of 10 years and will certainly find his property enormously enhanced in value.

Go out to Clearview and judge the property for yourself. Take a Mt. Lebanon car in Smithfield street. Tell the conductor to let you off at Clearview. You will find an agent in the company's office on the property.

The Pittsburgh office of the Mt. Lebanon Land and Trust Company is in the Germania Savings bank building, 421 Wood street.

The directors of the company are Justus Mullert, F. W. Mueller, Daniel Brady, Peter Hermes and James A. Fortune. The company has a paid-up capital of $125,000 and assets of $165,000.

Never Without the Goods.

A prominent broker of New York, who is called upon to make a number of trips to Europe every year, always includes in his traveling paraphernalia a case of Red Raven Splits. When jested with upon this fact by his friends he took the matter quite seriously, and said: "While you young men may take Red Raven Splits before breakfast for too much eating and drinking the night before and to get rid of that dark-brown taste, I have always found the water an excellent alleviative for seasickness, and that feeling of fullness and lassitude that so often accompanies long journeys. I have never among the foreign bitter waters found an aperient that acts so surely and gently upon the liver, it being absolutely painless. I, therefore, take no chances, and carry Red Raven Splits with me wherever I go."

EFFORT TO DEFEAT PLANS OF SCHWAB

Bondholders of Shipbuilding Co. Secure Order Restraining Continuance of Business.

A RECEIVER ALSO ASKED FOR

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 11.

To defeat Charles M. Schwab in his alleged attempt to get the property of the United States Shipbuilding Company from the first mortgage bondholders, suit was filed today in the United States circuit court, Jersey City, for an injunction against the continuance of the business by the directors and for the appointment of a receiver on the grounds of insolvency.

The complainants are Roland Conklin, Max Nathan, Jacob Mack and James Maguire of New York city, first mortgage holders, and the owners of the preferred and common stock. A restraining order was granted. Judge Kirkpatrick also granted an order, returnable at Trenton next Monday, to show cause why a receiver for the company should not be appointed.

The bill charges that Mr. Nixon sold to the new company, the Crescent Company, at an exaggerated price, and that the new company issued a large amount of securities which were unloaded on the public at exorbitant prices. It is further charged that of the $16,000,000 of bonds of the company, about $9,000,000 were sold upon representation as to earnings which were false.

The bill further charges that it was a part of the original plan of Mr. Nixon to have Mr. Schwab buy the Bethlehem works and put it into the new company at an enormous profit. It is stated that Schwab paid not exceeding $3,000,000 for the Bethlehem works above the mortgages of about $8,000,000, and that he put the steel works into the shipbuilding company at about $40,000,000 in bonds and stocks, which was about $27,000,000 more than he paid for them, although he held the property only one year. A copy of the plan of reorganization of the Sheldon committee is attached.

It is said that the company is controlled by Schwab and that the plan of reorganization is solely in his interest, the purpose being to wipe out the first mortgage bondholders and to enable Mr. Schwab to obtain the entire property under his mortgages. By this plan it is said that Mr. Schwab will receive back all he sold to the shipbuilding company and get all the properties and assets as well.

It became known today that as an instance of the methods of financing adopted by the formation of the United States Shipbuilding Company there was paid for the control of the Canada Manufacturing Company on the Jersey flats $200,000 in cash, $250,000 in bonds, $300,000 in preferred stock and $300,000 in common stock, a total of $1,100,000 for this concern. LATEST BIG DEAL FOR FIFTH AVENUE PROPERTY

The Chronicle Telegraph building, at No. 447 Fifth avenue, has been sold to Samuel C. Greer of Allegheny for $450,000. The deal was handled by C. G. Paul, who secured the property from Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Alsop of Washington, D. C. Aside from being the largest deal with one exception in Fifth avenue property for two years or more, the transaction is a very interesting one from the importance of the property and the rapid enhancement in values evidenced by the price paid.

The property has a frontage of 30 feet in Fifth avenue, between the Park building and Newell's hotel, and extends back 240 feet to Virgin alley. In Fifth avenue the building is four stories high with a stone front, and the Virgin alley end is six stories high. The lower floor of the building is occupied by the business offices of The Pittsburgh Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph and the upper floors by a large number of small offices. At the price paid, $450,000, which was exactly the figure which Frank McCann paid for the Hamilton building, three doors below, the property brought $15,000 a front foot, or $62.50 a square foot. Nine years ago the entire building was leased to the Chronicle Telegraph Company at a net annual rental of $14,000. This lease expires next April, when it is expected the building will be thoroughly remodeled and provided with a Virgin alley front.

This sale affords another wholesome lesson to local investors, who have hung back in the belief that prices had reached the top notch. One year ago the Chronicle Telegraph building was offered at $350,000, and the best tender that could be obtained was $300,000. Less than six months ago it was again on the market for $390,000, so that the owners have realized $60,000 more by holding the property a half year. The present deal has been conducted quietly, but at the close two other buyers loomed up and with their respective brokers made a hot race for the property, one of them offering more than the owners had already agreed to accept.

MOORE SAYS FIGHT MUST GO TO THE BITTER END

Rival Organization Will Be Maintained in the Fourteenth Ward and Citizens Ticket May Not Be Supported.

Two organizations will be the result of the Citizen party squabble in the Fourteenth ward. The one presided over by W. J. Moore may not support the fusion county ticket to be named by Thomas S. Bigelow.

The anti-Moore faction had its inning last night. E. Y. Breck was elected chairman of the ward committee. He announced that he would this morning make a demand on W. J. Moore for all of the papers and books belonging to the ward organization. If his demand is not complied with, Breck will lay the matter before Thomas S. Bigelow, chairman of the city committee. Moore says that he will pay no attention to the claims of Breck.

According to Moore it is a fight to a finish, so long as Select Councilman J. J. Booth and Common Councilman John Lauler are recognized by the party managers. Tomorrow night Moore will call a meeting of the ward committee and each district will be represented by Citizens-Republicans. He claims that 20 of the 31 men at the Breck meeting last night were Democrats. There will be primaries held in some of the Democratic districts tonight for the election of Republicans. Among the number will be the Fifth, where Peter Leahey, Democrat, lives.

Tuesday evening a petition, signed by 19 uncontested delegates and 12 delegates whose seats were contested, was presented to W. J. Moore, requesting him as a ward chairman to call a meeting Thursday night. He refused on the ground that there was no need for haste and that he would convene the committee next week. About an hour before the meeting last evening a notice, signed by the same men, was served on Moore. It set forth that inasmuch as he had neglected to call a meeting, a majority of the delegates would do so. He was informed that the committee would meet at the Bellefield schoolhouse at 8 o'clock.

The anti-Moore delegates met at the schoolhouse and when the roll was finally completed, these 33 anti-Moore men, who were present, were declared to be entitled to seats:

Third district, J. J. O'Donnell, Philip Smith, Fred Michenstein; Fourth, John Burns, Daniel Moran, P. F. Cain; Fifth, Peter Leahey, Martin Crowe, D. J. Cruise; Sixth, John Hogan, M. V. Doyle, C. Y. Scully; Seventh, John J. Doherty, D. V. Cone, F. H. Elfordt; Eighth, T. J. Murray, E. Y. Breck, substitute for James McGinley, John Lauler, substitute for Harry Ricketts; Ninth, James F. McGuigan, John Lowry; Eleventh, George Pfeil (Moore claims Pfeil is not a committeeman); Thirteenth, Charles McAllister, A. J. Strickler, George Schneider; Fourteenth, C. J. Crowley, James Doyle, Patrick Greeley, Fifteenth, J. W. Harger, W. G. Nagley, substitute for W. D. Booth, Frank McAllister; Sixteenth, J. D. Robertson, George T. Barnes, Robert Symers.

These Moore men were seated, but none were present:

First, John Nagle, J. F. Blader, Patrick Meenan; Second, P. H. Long, Charles Smith, C. V. Batchelor; Ninth, E. D. Wilt; Tenth, W. J. Moore, Matthew Kinzer; Twelfth, Randolph; Eleventh, Henry Reander, G. H. Bentz; Twelfth, A. W. Black, A. E. Jones, W. H. Stevenson.

John Doherty, a Democrat, was elected temporary chairman and J. D. Robertson as permanent chairman. E. Y. Breck was then elected ward chairman without opposition. These ward officials were also chosen: M. J. Ehrenfeld, vice chairman; M. R. Hefford, secretary; George A. Kim, treasurer. Moore says that Ehrenfeld and Kim are friends of his and will not accept the offices.

A committee of which W. J. Moore was named as a member, was appointed to draft rules. A resolution indorsing the city and county officials was adopted. An effort to elect a member of the city committee was blocked. Breck suggested that the committee wait until later when a full committee would be present.

Moore's friends held a conference during the evening and they decided to call their ward committee together tomorrow night. When this information was given to The Gazette there were several Moore adherents present. When Moore said that it was the intention of the Republican-Citizens to continue their organization no matter what decision was rendered by the city committee, he was asked if the Citizens ticket would be supported this fall. One of his friends announced that it would not, but he was told that he was too hasty. Moore said that was a question to be considered later along.

Common Councilman Jacob L. Beck, of the Thirty-first ward, has been succeeded as ward chairman of the Citizens' party by Joseph Patton. The other new officers are: George Hoehns, vice chairman; William E. Best, secretary; W. J. Payne, treasurer; A. P. Vierheller, member of the city committee, succeeding Charles Thomas. Schuck did not attend the meeting.

The Twenty-fifth ward committee of the Citizens organized as follows: J. H. Vichestain, chairman; Edward Jacobs, vice chairman; John S. Rossiter, secretary and treasurer.

SHIELDS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Will Not Run for District Attorney Or Any Other Office.

J. M. Shields is not a candidate for the office of district attorney. The story regarding his candidacy on the Republican ticket to succeed John C. Haymaker is based solely upon the fact that one day last week a friend suggested in a casual way that Mr. Shields ought to be a candidate.

Mr. Shields at once and conclusively stated that he could not entertain the suggestion, partly because it would interfere with his private practice, but chiefly on account of his unwillingness to be a candidate at any time for any office whatever.

NUMBER OF TOY PISTOL VICTIMS REACH TEN

Two More Deaths Yesterday from Memorial Day Injuries. Coroner's Cases.

Two more deaths from lockjaw, results of wounds from toy pistols, occurred yesterday. The victims were Frank Thompson, 14 years old, of No. 602 Ross avenue, Wilkinsburg, and John Pendel, 14 years old, of No. 116 Snoop street, Millvale. This makes 10 victims of tetanus since May 30 in Allegheny county. An unknown boy on Decoration day fired off a toy pistol, the contents entering Thompson's right hand. Pendel accidentally shot himself with a toy pistol on the same day.

John Sibert, 26 years old, of No. 2832 Romaine alley, South Side, died at the South Side hospital yesterday afternoon of injuries received in Jones & Laughlins' mills Tuesday.

Tello Wertz, 3 years old, of No. 2812 Steubenson street, was run over by an iron-laden wagon yesterday and killed while playing in front of her home. She attempted to steal a ride and her dress became entangled in the wheels. James Leavit, the driver, was arrested.

Enola Glacona, 28 years old and married, of Brownsville, died yesterday in the West Penn hospital of paralysis due to being struck on the neck by a bar of iron on March 31.

DEPENDS UPON THE SUBWAY PLANS. TO DEVISE PLANS TO GET MEMBERS

Construction of New Traction Roads to Follow Approval of Underground System.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Determined Agitation for Subways Soon to Be Begun in Pittsburgh and Holders of the Traction Franchises Expect to Reap the Benefit.

That the granting of charters to the New Grant Street Railway Company and the Ferry Street Railway Company means the initial step toward renewed agitation for a system of subways in Pittsburgh is assured. While the two companies named propose to operate but short links in the great rapid transit scheme planned, they will hold important territory if franchises are granted for the routes they intend to improve. Definite plans have not been made by the promoters and they will wait to study the result of the public's campaign in behalf of subways, profiting by their charters should the underground roads meet with popular favor.

Pittsburgh is ripe for a demand of improved facilities in her traction service. The failure of the Pittsburgh Railways Company to accommodate its immense traffic, the congested conditions on all downtown thoroughfares resulting from an enormous vehicle traffic and the extension of surface roads, together with a universal cry for a short route to the East End residence district, have combined to produce conditions urging immediate relief from the evils of the existing street railway system.

The Pittsburgh chamber of commerce will lead in the campaign for subways. Several members of that body have been collecting literature on subway engineering and are preparing for an aggressive campaign on behalf of the Boston idea of bettering the traction service. Once the popular demand is made for subways the promoters of the corporations just chartered would be in a position to seize the ground floor in speculation upon their enterprise. Shirley F. Austin, one of the directors in the new companies, said:

"The New Grant Street Railway Company and the Ferry Street Railway Company are independent concerns. Franchises will be asked for the construction of roads over the routes indicated in the charters. These, of course, will be mere connecting links in a system which will be worked out later. We cannot say what our plans will be, because we have not taken up that part of the work. This is an independent venture of our own. We have no connection whatever with the companies which have been chartered to build a traction road down the Ohio valley."

It was reported yesterday that the Pennsylvania company is behind the companies organized to build traction roads in the Ohio and Beaver valleys, but the stories were officially denied. R. R. Quay and others are interested in this scheme and are planning the building of a line connecting Allegheny with the towns of the Beaver and Shenango valleys. No plans have been made beyond the legal steps necessary to procure the charters and no surveys have been made.

New Stock Exchange Chartered.

The Pittsburgh Industrial Exchange was granted a charter by the county court yesterday. The exchange is to be operated in the interests of owners of stocks not listed on the Pittsburgh exchange. There is a large number of these which are not dealt in on the big exchange and those engaged in brokerage business which most largely affects these stocks believe that a new exchange to handle these heretofore unlisted stocks will be profitable.

New Mining Company Chartered.

The Ashacoochee Mines Company of Pittsburgh yesterday filed a certificate of incorporation at Dover, Del. The stated object is to acquire mines and mining rights in the United States and Canada. The incorporators are James C. Jones and Alfred G. Detchon of Pittsburgh and John G. Gray of Wilmington, Del. The capital stock of the company is $100,000.

Executive Committee of Strap-hangers' League Will Meet to Adopt a Method.

TO ENGAGE MANY SOLICITORS

The Securing of a Charter Has a Great Effect in Inducing People to Affiliate With the Organization—1,000 Candidates at Wilmerding.

A special meeting of the executive committee of the Strap-hangers' league will be held Saturday at noon, when plans will be formulated for a campaign to secure members. About a dozen solicitors will be employed and sent to the industries in and about Pittsburgh to explain the principles of the organization.

The membership roll has increased considerably during the past two days, but the officials of the association are determined to have every person using street cars become a member. Now that the organization has a charter it has better opportunities to increase its membership. Before the charter was secured many people looked upon the Strap-hangers as an organization that would be short-lived. They have changed their views now, and it will require little effort to induce them to wear the league buttons.

According to the intentions of the officials, nothing will be left undone to make the organization a credit to the city. It not only intends to secure better service, but to keep up the standard. Whenever a car becomes unsafe to stand the speed scheduled the league will enter a protest against its use. The primary object of the league is safety, and the second comfort. It will also look into the sanitary condition of the cars.

On a crowded Forbes street car yesterday six men were compelled to occupy the rear. The seat was full before they boarded the car and they had to sit on the rear guard. The one in the center of the car was engaged in conversation when the trolley pole left the wire, and the rope knocked off his hat. It rolled on the opposite track and a team played football with it.

A letter was received at headquarters yesterday from an employe at the Westinghouse works at Wilmerding. It stated that over 1,000 men were ready to join the league and suggested that some person go to the works to receive their names. This will be done Monday.

AGED MAN SHOT DEAD IN HOME BY ROBBERS

Thieves Were Not Satisfied With $500 He Had Given Them.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 11.—Two robbers tonight shot down George Geyer, a wealthy farmer, before the eyes of his aged wife, whom they had tied to a chair. The crime was committed at the home of Mr. Geyer, near Alton, nine miles west of Columbus.

The other members of the family had gone to a lawn party and Mr. and Mrs. Geyer were alone. Two men entered the house by a rear door, broke into the bedroom and demanded Mr. Geyer's money. The old man, who is more than 76 years of age, rose and gave the desperados his pocketbook, containing over $500. Dissatisfied with the amount the robbers tied Mrs. Geyer to a chair and threatened her husband with violence if he did not give them more. When the old man protested that he had no more money in the house, the robbers drew their revolvers and, firing several times, killed him.

It was almost an hour after the murder had been committed that the old woman's cries attracted the attention of a passing farmer. He released her and obtained from her a description of the murderers, who were white men and masked. She is confident that she would recognize them at once. Bloodhounds were placed on the trail tonight.

Verdict of Murder Returned.

SHARON, PA., June 11.—(Special.)—Murder is the verdict of the coroner's jury tonight after investigation of the death of old Mrs. Isabella Roseberry, found with her throat cut in her home between here Sharpsville, May 30. The jurymen took 30 minutes in which to decide that the woman was murdered in her bedroom and dragged into the hall by some person or persons unknown, who fled.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 11.—(Special)—The Rev. Dr. Samuel H. Moore, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church of this city, last night informed the members of the board of elders that he has definitely decided not to accept the call to the pastorate of the East End Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh. He was several years ago pastor of the Wilkinsburg Presbyterian church and while there assisted in organizing the East End congregation.

RAMSEY LAUGHS AT MANY RUMORS

Wabash President Gives No Credence to Reports of Big Gould Deals in East.

President Joseph Ramsey, Jr., of the Wabash railroad, who reached this city yesterday morning to give his personal attention for two days to local Wabash matters, refuses to take seriously the many rumors of the last 10 days in regard to big railroad acquisitions of the Goulds in the east.

"I see they have us buying the New York Central and the Pennsylvania all in one day," he said. "That did not seem such a good day either. No, the Wabash will not buy the kingdom of Servia at present. It seems by the reports to be picking up everything in sight, but the fact that Servia has lost its old ruler does not mean this. It will have to be shown first that it would be a good investment.

"These rumors are, I believe, merely stock market reports and are worthy of no more credence than hundreds of others of like character. The Wabash is going right ahead with its own work.

"There is much exaggeration of the losses from the floods about St. Louis, I believe. The report of the Wabash earnings for the first week in June, showing an increase of $16,000 over the same week of last year, does not show that traffic has been so badly hurt. When the waters have subsided, it will be found that the reports are beyond the facts."

Mr. Ramsey will leave this evening for St. Louis after having spent about three months in New York. The bids for the Saw Mill run extension are to be gone over, and the award of the contract likely will be made soon. The Greene county line and the Buckhannon & Northern, by which the Wabash will reach a connection with the West Virginia Central at Bellington, W. Va., are also so far advanced in the engineering preparations that contracts will soon be called for. The work on the bridge to Allegheny is now all up to the United States government, the Wabash having presented its full case in the matter of the elevation of the bridge being forced to 70 feet, whereas the only practical elevation for the railroad is fixed at 50 feet.

The progress being made now on the work in the city greatly pleases the Wabash executive. Steel work is soon to be started on the Monongahela bridge, and the foundations for the new station are being rapidly completed. The tunnels are both well advanced and all along the whole line through Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio to the Wheeling & Lake Erie connection the masonry and grading are nearly completed. Mr. Ramsey believes still that barring strikes, the early winter will see Wabash trains entering this city, although the regular passenger schedules may not be in working arrangement by that time. The Wabash station is to be completed in full by February under the Fuller company contract.

MORE EVIDENCE INVOLVING JETT

Web of Guilt Being Slowly Weaved About Him as Murderer of Marcum.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

JACKSON, KY., June 11.—Placing the town under martial law with Provost Marshal Longmire in charge, has created consternation in some circles and relief in others. The soldiers on guard are authorized to make arrests and take their prisoners before the grand jury and not the county judge. The closing of the "blind tigers" and the vigilant patrol have stopped the random firing at night. With a battalion of troops to execute orders of the provost marshal and State Inspector Hines watching the progress of the trial there is a general impression that Gov. Beckham proposes to let the law take its course in Breathitt county.

The first witness called was Hezekiah Combes. He swore that he saw Jett and White together a few minutes before the shooting of Marcum. He saw White move toward the side door of the court house and make a motion to Jett to follow. He did not see Jett again until after the assassination. Price Landrum, deputy circuit clerk, testified to scenes about the court house at the time of the murder. Miss Laura Rawlings, a clerk, testified that she saw Jett come out of the side door of the court house just after the shooting of Marcum and Seldom Back testified to the same thing. Henry Hurst, Marcum's brother-in-law, was at the postoffice at the time of the shooting and he testified to what he saw after he reached the court house. In the cross-examination of Hurst, the defense objected to reference to Joseph Moore's statements about poisoning prisoners. The court took the admission of this evidence under advisement. Grannis Back, son of Judge Back, testified to seeing Jett enter the court before the shooting. S. S. Taulbee testified to seeing Ewen looking into the court house while the shooting was going on and then run down the street.

Will Elect Officers Today.

Three sessions were held at the convention of the Epworth league session at the Fourth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, Homestead, yesterday. The morning session began at 6:30 o'clock and was well attended. The session was devoted to devotional services and short talks were also given. In the afternoon missionary work was discussed and at the evening session there was a song service and several addresses. Officers will be elected at this morning's session.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Brooklyn at Exposition Park.
New York at Cincinnati.
Boston at St. Louis.
Philadelphia at Chicago.

On a rain-soaked field and with a constant drizzle beating down the Pirate and Brooklyn teams played the first of their series of games and the victory went to the local club by an umpire's score 9 to 0. The visitors were outplayed in all departments of the game and there was never a doubt in the minds of the 2,220 spectators as to where the victory would land.

It is doubtful if an attempt would have been made to play a game had it not been for a desire to please a small army of South Side people who were out to honor to their friend and fellow citizen, Adolph Otto Jordon, who is a member of the Brooklyn team. The South Siders were about a thousand strong, and each wore a neat little white badge which contained a picture of Jordon, and above it was the following: "Demmel Athletic Club, Tryst to the Pirates, Inc. Opening Day, Pittsburgh Boy." A number were armed with cow bells and tin horns, which they made good use of at frequent intervals.

In the second inning, when Jordon appeared at bat, Magistrate Joseph Vichesain and the officers of the Demmel club walked out on the playing field and the players on both teams gathered about the home plate, and with bared heads, on which the rain played a lively tattoo, they listened to a few timely remarks by the magistrate who presented Jordon with a representation of a handsome diamond stud to Jordon, a gift from his South Side friends. When this was concluded play was resumed, and Jordon, to the delight of his friends, drove a pretty single to left field.

Deacon Phillippe was called on to do the pitching for the Pirates, and, as per usual, he was there with the goods. The deacon was in fine fettle, and had the Brooklyn batters at his mercy all the way. But three hits were made off his delivery during the nine innings, one by Jordon in the second and one by Danlen in the eighth and a very scratchy one by McCreedie in the ninth. But twice did the visitors get a man as far as third base.

Roy Evans, who pitched for Brooklyn, was touched up rather lively in three of the nine innings, when bunched hits, together with bases on balls and errors, produced all the runs. The support given Evans was somewhat wobbly and in striking contrast to the clever support given Phillippe by his fellows. The fine pitching of the deacon, however, seemed to take the ginger out of the Brooklyn boys, because when a team can't hit its fielding is generally affected thereby.

Bases on balls to Wagner and Bransfield and successive singles by Ritchey, Phelps, Phillippe and Beaumont gave the locals three runs in the second inning. In the third, after Sebring had filed out to Dobbs, Evans soaked Wagner with the ball and Hans walked to first. On Bransfield's grounder Strang tried for Wagner at second and failed. Leach's single to center scored Wagner, and Bransfield and Leach rounded on Ritchey's three-bagger to right. Phelps' single scored Ritchey with the fourth run of the inning.

There was nothing further doing until the eighth inning, when two more runs were scored on singles by Phelps and Sebring and wild throws by Jordon and Doyle. When the game ended the players, as well as the umpire, were wet, because it rained almost continuously during the entire contest. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

By winning yesterday's game the Pirates now hold the season's record for straight victories, having nine of them in a row. The Chicago team won eight without a miss.

The occupants of the left field bleachers who had neglected to provide themselves with umbrellas set their wits to work and soon found a way to save their clothes while watching the game. They tore holes through the center of newspapers and made shoulder shawls, which protected all but their hats.

The diamond stud presented to Otto Jordon by his South Side friends yesterday was both costly and beautiful. After getting the present Jordon proceeded to slam out a base hit which is an unusual thing, as players who get presents strike out as a rule. The South Siders cheered their favorite noisily after he made the hit.

In the sixth inning Manager Clarke set the crowd to cheering when by a great sprint he managed to reach Evans' line fly and held to it even though he had to take a header and rolled over twice, but came up smiling with the ball in his hands. It was a great catch and deserved the applause bestowed on the maker of it.

McCreedie, the Brooklyn right fielder, contributed a very pretty play in the second inning when he gathered in Clarke's fliner to right and then shot the ball home in time to catch Phelps, who tried to score from third on the out. McCreedie's throw home was a perfect one, the ball landing in the catcher's hands just in time to nip the runner.

The Pirate and Brooklyn teams will go at each other to-day again and there will likely be some lively doings. It will be Lewee's turn to pitch for the Pirates, but Manager Clarke may take a shift and give one of the young pitchers a chance to show what he can do. Either Garvin or Schmidt will do the pitching for Hanlon's team.

That South Side crowd of rooters forgot all about loyalty to their fellow townsmen in the second and third innings when the Pirates found the curves of Roy Evans and began to pound out hits and runs. The real loyalty was to the Pirates and they cheered the hitters, both long and loud. The inscription on their badges stated that they were loyal to the Pirates and they showed it when the test came.

Sammy Strang, the Brooklyn third baseman, was guilty of a stupid play in the third inning when, after getting Bransfield's grounder, he threw to second instead of first and missed both men. Strang had plenty of time to catch Bransfield, but no chance for Wagner, as that player had too good a start from first and the hit and run game was being worked.

Beaumont's base hit in the second inning was a funny one. Beaumont tried for a bunt and the ball hit to the left of the home plate and looked as though it was going to roll foul. Cather Jacklitsch made two or three efforts to pick the ball up, but it eluded his clutch, and while he was grabbing for it Ritchey, who was on third, scored and Beaumont reached first with ease.

Ben Mulford, Jr., says in the Cincinnati Enquirer: "A. C. Anson, the Grand Old Man of the game, saw his first championship game of the year yesterday, and he came to Cincinnati to see it. Just now baseball holds few charms for the former idol of Chicago, where he is now one of the leaders in the bowling and billiard game. His leases from Cincinnati property owners, and his periodical visits to Redland are on that account. Capt. Anson viewed the Reds' futile efforts against Brooklyn from a box in the Pans' palace. He thinks that Fred Clarke's Pirates will win the National league pennant."

WON IN THE NINTH.

Boston Had a Batting Streak and Beat the Cardinals.

ST. LOUIS, June 11.—Boston won in the ninth inning of today's game by some of the cleanest and timeliest hitting seen here this season. With the score 5 to 5 in the ninth inning, Dexter drew a free pass and scored on Tenney's two-bagger. A moment later Abbatchio made a home run, sending Tenney in ahead of him. Pitcher Malarky was knocked out of the box in the sixth inning. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

SEWICKLEY WON.

Defeated Pittsburgh High School Team in Final Inning.

Two hundred enthusiasts braved a cold rain to see Sewickley draw victory from defeat in the final inning of a hard-fought ball game. The local High school was victorious over Pittsburgh High school earlier in the season on the latter's grounds, and yesterday it looked as if the tables were to be turned, the score standing 4-4 for Pittsburgh's favor at the opening of the ninth inning. Then timely hitting and errors by the visitors netted Sewickley three runs and the game. The score:

NEW CASTLE PREACHER WILL ACT AS A PITCHER

Rev. Earle Willey.

NEW CASTLE, PA., June 11.—(Special.)—Rev. Earle Willey, pastor of the Park Christian church of this city, and one of the most widely known divines of this part of the state, will occupy the pitcher's box at Cascade park here tomorrow and will twirl for the New Castle branch of the Washington Insurance Union against a team composed of members of the Beaver Falls branch of the order. The game will occur during the annual outing of the Washington Insurance Union here, where it was formed some three years ago.

Rev. Willey maintains all the dignity of the ministerial cloth, but is a liberal patron of manly and clean athletics and consented to pitch to renew his boyhood days. C. F. Wheeler, cashier of the Home Trust Company of this city, will be his catcher, and the Beaver Falls battery will be Messrs. Kemp and Curtis. A large audience will witness Rev. Willey in the pitcher's box.

TWELVE-CLUB LEAGUE SEEMS SURE THING

National and American to Consolidate and Have Only the One Club in Each Town.

CINCINNATI, O., June 11.—Ban Johnson, president of the American Baseball league, has been in this city several days conferring with August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati National league club, relative to a merger for a 12-club league. This means only one club each for Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis and estimates have been furnished the conferees by the owners in those cities, but the work is so great in making relative appraisements that neither Johnson nor Herrmann expect the merger to be operative this season unless greater concessions shall be made than are at hand now.

Herrmann has been working on the statements of owners for more than a month and wants an immediate merger, for with the finish, Johnson seems slated as the president. Herrmann today went over the statements of the St. Louis club. The owners of the American league club in St. Louis were with him. Meantime the conferences are said to have resulted in Cincinnati securing new players from American league owners.

President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club stated last night that he did not believe there was any truth in the twelve club league story. He was positive that no such thing was under way in the matter and thought if such a scheme was one that he would know something about it. He could see no good reason for any changes in the club, and thought the National is stronger now than ever, and that Fulliam is a better man at the head than Ban Johnson would be. He thinks the twelve club league scheme exists only in the mind of some Cincinnati newspaper man.

THE RELIANCE AGAIN SHOWS GREAT SPEED

New Cup Defender Beat Both Constitution and Columbia in a Clever Test Race.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 11.—That she has no equal in American waters in a smooth sea and a light wind the Reliance demonstrated again today by another victory over both the Constitution and Columbia.

After a sharp brush which continued for nearly an hour, the Reliance got the lead over the Constitution and held it to the finish, defeating her by 5 minutes 32 seconds. The Columbia lost five minutes by a shift of wind which placed her to leeward of the others. The Reliance beat her by 12 minutes 54 seconds. The race was sailed over the America's cup course, 15 miles from Sandy Hook to windward and return, 30 miles around.

There was a fruitless start, the three boats crossing the line almost side by side, but Capt. Rhodes hall once more placed the Constitution in a position to blanket the Reliance, while the Columbia was in the lee of both. Constitution went over the line in the lead at 11:00 17 seconds later, followed by Columbia in 14 seconds.

In the first five minutes the Reliance began to foot the Constitution and to work out from her position under the lee bow of the older boat, so that when the Constitution tacked at 12:23 the Reliance had got the coveted windward berth.

Inch by inch the Reliance worked up to windward, until, after a little more than an hour's sailing, she was fully a mile and two thirds to the Constitution was hundreds of yards astern. At the turn Reliance was 5 minutes and more ahead of Constitution and more than 11 minutes ahead of Columbia.

On the way home the Columbia carried her spinnaker larger than the others, and lost by it, but the Reliance, by her reaching qualities, almost held her place, although the Reliance gained slightly on her and nearly two minutes on Columbia on the run home. The official time:

	Start.	Finish.	Elapsed Time.
Reliance	12:16:18	4:06:41	3:50:23
Constitution	12:16:01	4:11:56	3:55:55
Columbia	12:16:32	4:19:09	4:02:37

Members of the regatta committee announced tonight that there would be no race until Monday, when they will race for the Glen Cove cups off Glencove.

Mt. Pleasant Was Outclassed.

MT. PLEASANT, PA., June 11.—(Special.)—South West proved the easiest kind of a proposition for Charlerol this afternoon, the game being too one-sided to be interesting. Breckbill relieved him, but could not stop the hitting of a player for South West reached third base. The score:

DRIVER LEFT WAGON; FIVE ARRESTS MADE

South Side police arrested Louis Levy, a liveryman and junk dealer of 1132 Ann street; William Brown, Henry Smith and Henry Johnson, of Vilckroy street, and Harry Burkhiser of Jones avenue. All of them, except Levy, are negroes. The case started when Officer Thomas Byron saw a negro driving a wagon loaded with car wheels, steel billets and sheet steel plates and ordered him to stop. The driver jumped from the wagon and escaped, while Officer Byron drove the wagon to the city stables on Bingham street. Inspector P. F. Kelly put Special Officer James Connor on the case and the arrests were the result. The police say the wagon was hired from Levy and that Johnston and Smith own the horse. They also assert that Johnston admitted that Levy had bought goods from them for some time past.

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Napoleon Lajoie and William Bernhard of the Cleveland American league baseball club, were today purged of contempt of court. The players violated an injunction granted about a year ago, restraining them from playing baseball with other than the National league club of Philadelphia. The court said they deserved punishment, but as all parties had come to an agreement, he would let them off. Lajoie's reappearance here helped to swell the crowd today. The game was a battle of pitchers. Hoffman batted for Henley in the eighth inning, which accounts for the latter's retirement. A fumble by Monte Cross gave Cleveland their winning run. Clingman was ordered off the grounds for objectionable coaching from the bench. Attendance 7,342. Score:

YALE TEAM READY.

Bowman Will Go Against the Tigers Once More—Changes May Be Made.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., June 11.—(Special.)—The Yale baseball nine today finished up its last hard practice before the deciding match of the series with Princeton, and will leave here after a short drill tomorrow for New York. Capt. Winslow ascribes the defeat last Saturday to the fact that Pitcher Bowman was rattled by the noise of the many brass bands at the Princeton field, and could not curve the ball. Capt. Winslow has the utmost faith that Bowman will pitch his best game next Saturday.

Head Coach Dr. Murphy has been considering Smith, the crack freshman batter and left fielder, for the game on Saturday, but Smith was hit in the eye with a batted ball in practice yesterday and may not be able to play. Tom Shevlin, who will manage and football next season from Harvard and all the other colleges save the University of Pennsylvania.

SOCIETY

THE showers of rain, which fell in nearly all parts of the city yesterday afternoon, happily passed by the Country club. Children's day was observed with all the eclat which has made it an annual event long anticipated by the little people who, for one afternoon each year, are the special guests of the members of the Country club. The beautiful grounds, lying along the Beechwood boulevard, were gaily decorated with lines of fantastic Japanese lanterns, hanging from tree to tree and swinging in the breeze, unheeding the threatening showers which have proved so disastrous to other out-door fetes of the early days of June.

During the afternoon and the early evening the Country club grounds were filled with people, nearly 400 being in attendance, and almost half the number being the little men and women in whose honor the fete was given. The lanterns with their picturesque decorations, the delightful shade of the magnificent trees which dot the grounds, the large marquee erected at a short distance from the club house, where supper was served, and the various amusements provided for the entertainment of the children, gave interest and variety to the appearance of the club grounds. The little girls in their dainty white, lace-trimmed frocks, with pretty bows of ribbon in their hair and pretty sashes, and the boys in their manly sailor suits of white duck, entered heartily into the festivities of the day. The ponies and the pony carts were besieged by the little people, a crowd continually surrounded the two hurdy-gurdies, the time-honored Punch and Judy show was no less attractive than a generation ago, when the fathers and mothers of the little people of yesterday enjoyed the same treat. The American Military band played throughout the afternoon and also during the evening, after the children were taken home.

Supper was served in the large tent, covers being laid for 187 children. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers. Children's day at the Country club yesterday, was one of the prettiest entertainments ever given there. Next year the club hopes to be in its new club house and it is expected that the June garden party for the children will be one of the first entertainments there.

Next Thursday evening the first of the summer concerts at the Country club will be given. They will be given every other Thursday evening given on the season. Dinner evening throughout those evenings at will be served on the lawn. The tables placed out on the American music will be provided by evening there Military band, and in the will be informal dancing.

The hostess was handsomely gowned in white silk trimmed with black Chantilly lace and carried a large cluster of American Beauties. Mrs. Carhart wore a gown of black lace over taffeta and carried white roses.

The front parlor, in which the chancellor and his wife received, was decorated with palms and pink and white carnations. Ferns and begonias were used to bank the mantels in the parlors and in the library, where pink and white peonies were the predominating flowers. Both the dining room and billiard rooms, in which refreshments were served, were done in red roses. The host and hostess were assisted informally during the evening by their daughter, Mrs. James B. McDowell, who was gowned in gray crepe de chine, trimmed with lace, and by their granddaughter, Mrs. John A. McDowell, who wore her wedding gown of white crepe and lace. A number of members of the university faculty and the board of trustees, together with their wives, were present and assisted.

The members of the graduating class who were guests of honor include Miss Mabel Elizabeth Morrow, Miss Bertha Charlotte Schuck, Miss Louisa Mary Smith, Hugh Arthur, James Edgar Higgins, Willis Boothe, Thomas Howard Brown, John Calvin Dietz, Samuel Renwick Dodds, Florence Irene Donahey, Edward Tudor Edwards, Frederick Thomas Fitzharris, Emil Bieler Guenther, John Hamnon, Jr., David Matthews Hosie, James Garfield Houston, Norman Dravo McCutcheon, Ray Carnegie McKenna, Harry Egbert Mall, Ralph Woodford Perry, Adam Stein, Jr., George Guy Todd, George Fulton Turner, Charles West Waggoner, Harry Frederick Wahr, Charles Cecil Warne and Winthrop Sargent Worcester.

The marriage of Miss Bessie Anna Purdy to Joseph Simpson was solemnized at 7:30 last evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Purdy, in Wallingford street, Bellefield. The Rev. Dr. J. H. McIlvaine and the Rev. F. L. Ferris of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church officiated in the presence of about 200 relatives and friends. The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a robe of white lace. A long veil of tulle fell the full length and was held in place with a white aigrette. She carried a shower of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Nettie Elizabeth Purdy, the only bridesmaid, wore white lace over pink silk and carried sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Malcolm Kneeland and Carrell Purdy, two little cousins of the bride, were the ribbon-bearers. Mr. Simpson's best man was Howard Moore of the East End. The bridal party stood in the drawing room before a group of tall palms. White roses and peonies also entered into the decorations, and pink roses were used in the dining room, where the guests were served. The members of the bridal party were seated upstairs at a table decorated in pink and white roses. At-home cards will not be issued until after the return from the wedding trip.

Christ Church Lawn Fete.

Under the auspices of the Epworth league of Christ Methodist Episcopal church a successful ice cream social was given last evening in the parlors of the church in Shadyside. The affair was originally planned as a lawn fete, but owing to the inclemency of the weather it took the form of an indoor entertainment. Mrs. James McCann was general chairman, and the officers of the league—Paul Sturtevant, president; Roland Smith, treasurer; Charles Claugh, Alice Shallenberger and Banks McDowell, vice presidents—received informally. A string orchestra furnished music for the occasion. The various tables, attractively decorated with flowers and colored bunting, were as follows: Ice cream, Mrs. George B. Mothersal and Mrs. Margaret Groschens; cake, Mrs. George W. Bushfield; lemonade, Mrs. J. H. Fredericks; candy, Miss Ida Bushfield. The proceeds of the affair will be used to help defray the expenses of 10 pastor teachers whom the league supports in India.

Mrs. Holcombe's Children's Party.

Mrs. Elisha Holcombe of Baum street, East End, gave a delightful children's party on Tuesday afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock to celebrate the eleventh birthday anniversary of her little daughter Beatrice. There were 75 little guests in attendance, who played parlor games and danced to the music of an orchestra. Refreshments were served in the dining room, which was daintily decorated with pink and white roses and sweet peas. The same colors were attractively carried out in the ices, candies and cakes. The favors were gay little Japanese articles for the girls and imported novelty canes for the boys. Mrs. Holcombe was informally assisted in entertaining by her two nieces, Miss Myra Nevius and Miss Helen Nevius of New York; Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Miss Charlotte Houston, Miss Emma Bibler, Mrs. Thomas Dana and Miss Kate Houston. Among the little guests were Kittie Houston, Jeannette Houston, Lois Cunningham, Alice Garland, Katherine Law, Katherine Walker, Dorothy Walker, Margaret Walker, Anna Patterson, Bess Patterson, Marie Dixon, Nora Dixon, Margaret Murray, Ruth Buchanan, Mary Coffin, Alice Dinker, Martha Sheldon, Elizabeth Boas, Marie Ahl, Bertha Kohne, Anna Freeman, Jean Lea, Jean McMullen, Mary Meaner, Hazel Hodston, Sarah Carlin, Blanche Dana, Florence Mackey, Jeannette Nevius, Florence Nevius, Katherine Hodkinson, Francis Denner, Ethel Chesman, Louise Emmerling, Margaret Burns, Mary Jane Mancourt, Tom Morris, James Meaner, Robert Garland, Henry Garland, Ray Lansenheim, Sandel Morris, William Stouffer, Gilbert Coburn, Crawford Cunningham, Joseph Phillips, Herbert Pressing, Joseph Langtt, Harold Durham, Samuel Smythe, Kenneth Law, Wallace Garland, Knox Motheral, George Nevius, Hunter Speer, Georgie Baum and brothers and Moody Donner.

The house was handsomely decorated in roses, carnations and smilax. The bride was attired in white silk and carried bride's roses. The bridesmaid, the bride's youngest sister, Miss Luella Riston, wore white satin and carried pink roses. The best man was the bridegroom's brother, George Vuerner of Youngstown. Sixty guests were present. Dr. Vuerner is a graduate of the West Penn Medical college and president of the Lawrence County Medical association. He is a prominent clubman. An Allegheny Concert.

An interesting concert evening in Carnegie hall, was given last Charles Freidberg, hall, Allegheny, by Miss Stella Mc[illegible], baritone, assisted by Miss Bader, contralto; Miss Emma Miss Alexandratto; Miss Kleber, mandolin; organ; Anna Schaeffer, piano; H. P. Ecker, piano, and George Ahl, violin. The program was not long, but the number of encores demanded doubled its length. Mr. Friedberg sang two numbers, the aria from "Aida," and Schubert's "Erl King," which were received with much applause. The violin and piano duets of Mr. Ahl and Miss Schaeffer were remarkable, not only for the excellent tone of the violin and piano, but also for the sympathetic and expressive piano part, which was played by little Miss Schaeffer in a way which would have done credit to an older artist. Miss Bader, Miss Kleber, Miss Aner and Mr. Ecker each contributed materially to the success of the evening.

She belongs to one of the best-known families in Western Pennsylvania, and is a granddaughter of the late Dr. Samuel Wakefield. Mr. Clingerman is connected with the Frick Coke Company. Women's Clubs

TEN summer playgrounds and nine vacation schools will be opened in Pittsburgh July 6. This announcement was made at the regular meeting of the joint committee of Women's clubs yesterday morning in the Twentieth ward club house on Duquesne way. The general chairman, Miss Beulah Kennard, presided and there was a large attendance, the meeting proving one of the most interesting held this season. The playgrounds and vacation schools will be opened in the Fortieth street school, the O'Hara, the Langston, the Columbian council in Center avenue, the Forbes school, the Soho, the Riverside, the Grant and the Silvan avenue. The closing of the kindergarten and school grounds during the summer because of additions and repairs which will be made to the school building leaves only the Recreation park in Carson street on the South Side for a play ground. A portion of the Recreation park will be set aside for the use of the little children who will be in attendance at the playground and a shed will be erected for the shelter of the children in case of rain. The park itself will be used by the older children for ball games and gymnastics. No definite plans have been made for the opening of playgrounds and schools in Allegheny.

The bill for an appropriation for the work has passed the finance committee, but until the money is secured no definite action in the direction of securing school grounds will be made.

Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, the treasurer, made an encouraging report yesterday, having received into the treasury about $1,200, though four times that amount will be needed before sufficient funds have been secured to carry on the work of the season.

The flower garden committee reported that there will be an opportunity after all to establish a school flower garden at the Fortieth street school, notwithstanding the erection of an addition to the building. This is the only school where the grounds can be used for this purpose. The gardens will be started within the next week or two. In the other schools the flower committee is planning to provide pots of flowers for the children to care for.

Arrangements Completed.

Provision has been made to conduct the entertainment which the New Era club gives this afternoon within the Liberty school building in case of rain. Under those conditions the garden party will be held out of doors tomorrow afternoon and evening. Arrangements are all completed for a brilliant lawn fete under the direction of the club women.

For Citizens of the Fifth Ward.

An interesting program has been arranged for the second open meeting this year of the Parents and Teachers' union of the Fifth ward, Allegheny. The meeting will be held in the Fifth ward school and every citizen of that ward is invited to attend. An address will be made by Mrs. Alice B. Montgomery and Miss Beulah Kennard will sing. This union was organized about a year ago as the result of the meeting of the Mothers' congress in Pittsburgh. The regular meetings are held once every month in the afternoon with two open meetings during the year. The first was held last February. An invitation is given to the men, women and children of the Fifth ward of Allegheny to be present at the meeting this evening.

RESTORES PLEASING PLUMPNESS

Mi-o-na Sold Under Druggists Schilling Bros. Co.'s "No Cure No Pay" Plan.

A man or woman might as well starve outright as to take food into the stomach and not have it digested, yet in Pittsburgh, as well as in every town and city, there are many people who are thin, pale and seem underfed, simply because the food they eat is not digested, the stomach is too weak to do its proper work, and the food fails to make good blood and firm flesh.

Mi-o-na, the wonderful flesh-forming food and scientific remedy for the cure of dyspepsia, taken after meals mingles with the food and enables it to assimilate and be readily digested so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness. No one can use it for a week or ten days without a noticeable gain in weight. It is the only remedy used in the treatment of stomach troubles where the money is refunded if it does not cure. Statistics show that out of every one hundred people who commence the use of Mi-o-na, 98 will find a gain in weight and a restoration of health and strength.

Any one who has dyspepsia, whose food does not digest well, who has to take thought as to what to eat, and when, or who is thin, weak, scrawny and emaciated can place 50c on deposit with Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown avenues, and take home a box of Mi-o-na. If the remedy does not regulate digestion, cure dyspepsia and give a noticeable increase in good, firm flesh, they will return the money without any questions.

STOPPED WORK VERY SUDDENLY

Someone Told Contractors Kerr & Fox They Would Not Be Paid for Addition.

TOOK THEIR MEN OFF THE JOB

Controller Larkin Denies He Said Warrants Would Not Be Issued on Estimates and Work Is Resumed—Investigation to Find Who Made Statement.

Work on the new addition to the Municipal hospital in the Thirteenth ward will in all probability be resumed this morning. Two days ago the work stopped mysteriously and because some person said to be high in authority in the ward told the firm of contractors, Kerr & Fox, that Controller John B. Larkin would refuse to issue warrants on their estimates and that they would not be paid. It was discovered that the controller had made no such statement and that the work will be paid for as per contract.

The citizens of the ward have done their utmost to prevent the building of the addition, which means practically the building of a new hospital. They petitioned the courts and about two weeks ago the petition was thrown out on the ground that the work had been contracted for before the protest was made. As soon as the petition was thrown out the contractors placed a force of men to work and the building was begun.

On Tuesday, however, the work stopped suddenly. The men came to work as usual, but were sent home and operations were suspended. The cause of the stoppage of work was enveloped in mystery. Yesterday a member of the firm of Kerr & Fox called on Controller Larkin. He expressed his surprise that the controller would refuse to issue warrants on their estimates. He also informed the controller that work had been suspended.

Mr. Larkin stated to the member of the firm that he had authorized no such statement and that the work would be paid for according to the estimates. He expressed surprise that any one should have made such a statement for him. He demanded to know the man's name. The member of the firm told the controller, but the man's name is not to be divulged at present. He is said to be in high authority in the ward.

The fact that immediately upon being told by this man Kerr & Fox took their men off the work, declaring that they did not intend to waste time on a contract for which, according to the man's statement, they would not be paid, seems to point to the fact that the man must have been someone whose statement would be regarded as authoritative. Who the man is, it is expected, will be known before long as a private investigation is already on foot.

For, whether by coincidence or not, Yesterday afternoon Mayor Hays, Director Harry Moore, Supt. of the Health Bureau G. Wash. Moore and Dr. E. A. Booth paid a visit to the hospital. It is not positively known that they went to investigate the contractor's story, but they happened to form the inspection tour soon after the controller had had the conversation with the member of the firm of Kerr & Fox.

After their return Director Moore denied any knowledge of a stoppage of work and said that their tour was merely for inspection purposes as the mayor is deeply interested in the workings of the hospital. Mr. Moore stated that he thought the firm should not have suspended operations on the say-so of any one man, as the city had contracted for the work and will pay for it.

GRAND JURY APPROVES MEMORIAL HALL PLANS

Project for Allegheny County to Erect a Magnificent Testimonial to Its Soldiers and Sailors Passes Up to the Judges.

To the memory of the Allegheny county soldiers and sailors who fought for the government in the civil war there will be raised in Pittsburgh a magnificent memorial hall if the plans approved yesterday by the grand jury are carried through. After the action of the jury the plans go to the court. The action of the judges on the question is awaited with the greatest interest.

A massive hall to cost between $800,000 and $1,000,000, designed to be a perpetual reminder to the people of this county of the stirring days when the union of the states was being defended is the form in which the Union Veteran Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic association of Allegheny county propose to carry out the provisions of the state law authorizing monuments to the civil war heroes. By a special act passed at the last legislature and approved on May 3 last by Governor Pennypacker, Allegheny county is given authority to erect this memorial hall under the provisions of the act of 1895.

Unsuccessful attempts were made by two previous grand juries to bring to a successful culmination the plans of those who think Pittsburgh should not be one of the few county seats in the Keystone state to lack a mark of the country's regard for its soldiers and sailors. Judges White and Ewing, who were then on the bench, refused to approve the projects when the earlier grand juries had passed them up to the court. The reasons alleged were that the plans were not definite enough and allowed the expenditure of an unlimited sum of money, and that a shaft is not the right mark of the county's memory of its soldiery. It was recommended by the judges that an architect should be secured.

The veterans' associations, both the Grand Army of the Republic and the Union Veteran Legion, began then to take active measures to remove these objections. The memorial hall idea was brought forward and incorporated in a bill before the legisdature and passed and approved by the grand jury and now being in the hands of the judges, it awaits only the action of the judges to pass to the county commissioners to be carried out.

The county commissioners have the authority under the act to condemn or to purchase a site for the building. So definite have the plans of the promoters become that they have had prepared by Architect T. D. Evans detail designs for the hall, and this design was shown to the grand jury yesterday. The action of the grand jury was an immediate approval of the plan.

The cost of carrying out this project will be defrayed by the county. The assessable valuation of Allegheny county, the second richest in the state, is $650,000,000. It is stated that a tax of only one-fourth mill for three years would meet the cost of this building, as now planned.

The provision of the law of 1895 that the plan should be approved by two successive grand juries has been fulfilled in the local case, it is said, as three grand juries have approved the plan to carry out the law's provisions.

WORK TO START THIS MORNING

Removing and Rebuilding the Grand Opera House and the Avenue Under Contract.

WILL COST ABOUT $250,000

Local Firms Win Contracts—Three Shifts of Men Working Eight Hours a Day Will Be Engaged All the Summer on Improvements.

Work will be started this morning on the big task of moving the Grand opera house to make way for the widening of Diamond alley. The contract was let yesterday for this work by the Pittsburgh Opera House Company and the building is to be completed in its new location under the terms of the contract by September 1 next. In the aggregate the cost of the moving and the installation of the many improvements contemplated will be $250,000.

Langenheim, Cochran & Co. of Pittsburgh were awarded the contract for moving the structure, while MacClure & Spahr made the plans and specifications. The owners of the property have instructed the architects to fireproof and modernize thoroughly the theater building, embodying all the latest improvements so that when the new season opens at the Grand the first week in September the Pittsburgh public will be treated to a pleasant surprise. Every method known to theatrical architecture will be employed to make the Grand equal to the best theaters in the United States. Few of the public who are interested in the premises have understood the existing situation between the Grand opera house and the Avenue theater. Fortunately, there is a space of 25 feet btween the two buildings, which makes it possible to accomplish the proposed changes without in the least disturb the interior dimensions of the auditorium, stage or seating capacity.

The contractors are under very heavy bond to finish the house by September 1, and there is said to be no question as to their ability to do so. To this end they will employ an army of workmen who begin operations this morning. Three shifts of men will work eight hours each, and not a moment's time will be lost. Numerous are lamps will supply the necessary light for the night shift. Manager Harry Davis is making his theatrical plans accordingly, and is confident his season will not be delayed a day beyond September 1.

The interior decorations of the house, by J. H. Hoffman of Pittsburgh, will be luxurious in the extreme. The ladies' parlor and retiring rooms will be most complete, while a smoking room and library will add to the comfort of the men patrons. The stage will be equipped with all of the very latest and most improved mechanical effects and will enable the management to give even more elaborate productions than the house has heretofore known.

Sugar Pea Pods.

These are the small variety cooked without shelling. Select them while the peas are scarcely formed. Wash well in cold water and throw in a kettle of boiling water, cook for half an hour, adding salt when half done; then drain and warm in butter. Stir in a little cream mixed with beaten egg yolks and a few drops of vinegar. Serve at once. They may be dressed plain with salt, pepper and butter.

Puree of Green Peas.

Boil until the peas are tender enough to press through a sieve; then place in a saucepan and stir in enough hot cream or milk to make the mixture the consistency of mashed potatoes; season with butter, pepper and salt and a very little sugar if desired. Use this puree for a garnish or border around a dish, pressing through a pastry bag into fancy shapes or pressing in a border mold, or the mixture may be "riced" by putting through a vegetable press, heaping lightly into mound in the center of a heated dish with broiled lamb chops, lobster or fish cutlets arranged around the base. Hard-boiled egg makes an effective decoration for top of the puree mound, giving a very spring-like dish.

Stewed Green Peas.

If the pods are tender and green and thoroughly washed, boil them until soft and then remove with a skimmer and boil the peas in the same water. When nearly done add the salt. When tender thicken the liquor with butter and flour rubbed together—two level tablespoonfuls of each. Add pepper to taste. Cook five minutes and serve. A few savory herbs may be boiled with the pods or peas and removed before the thickening is added.

Green Peas, English Fashion.

Wash and shell half a peck of fresh green peas, place in a stewpan with sufficient boiling water to cover, add a sprig of mint, and when nearly done a teaspoonful of salt. Cook until tender; take out the mint, add half an ounce of butter mixed with a little flour—about a teaspoonful—stir until the flour is well cooked, season to taste with white pepper and serve.

A Perfect Food

A Perfect Food means Perfect Health, bright eyes, a clear complexion, sweet breath, sound teeth, an active brain and symmetrical body.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is a perfect food and complete in itself for the proper nourishment of the whole body.

Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit is made in the only hygienic and scientific Food Laboratory in the world.

Sun-flooded through 30,000 lights of glass, finished in white enamel, marble and mosaic, and ventilated with filtered and tempered air, this Laboratory is the veritable home of purity—a place where contamination cannot occur.

Only the most luxuriant kernels of the finest wheat are used in the making of Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit. The wheat is first thoroughly cleaned and all the light kernels are removed, then it is washed in sterilized water and thoroughly cooked, after which it is spun into thousands of little shreds, each shred containing thousands of little pores which make it light and porous without the use of yeast, baking powders or chemicals of any kind, and naturally short without the use of fats. The shreds are then cut into biscuit and twice cooked, making them deliciously crisp, which compels thorough mastication and insures perfect digestion.

The above facts make Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit the most perfect food known to man.

ROBBER CAUGHT BY INDUCTION

Fine Clothes on a Line Looked Too Elegant for the Neighborhood.

PLAY SOMETIMES A CRIME

Moses King Found Guilty of Amusing Himself With a Revolver—A. J. Barton's Bail Forfeited on Failure to Appear in Court.

In criminal court yesterday Thomas Blair of McKeesport pleaded guilty to charges of burglary and receiving stolen goods and was sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of two years in the first case and one year on the second charge, the sentences to run concurrent. Blair's offense was in entering the bedroom of Miss Minnie Heath and stripping it of wearing apparel and jewelry, aggregating $180 in value. The display of the wearing apparel on a clothes line in a McKeesport district, where it seemed inconsistent with the surroundings, resulted in Blair's detection.

Others to plead guilty were: Robert Leslie, on charges of horse stealing and entering a building with felonious intent, made by William Anderson, John A. Minick and Robert Kennedy, respectively, sentenced on the three charges, but as the sentences run concurrently, he will serve one year in the workhouse.

Moses King was found guilty of "playfully discharging firearms" and sentenced by Judge Marshall Brown to the workhouse for 60 days. King was also charged with felonious assault and battery, but was acquitted. It was alleged he fired a revolver, and Mrs. Annie Christian, in getting out of his way, in a fright, fell over a porch sustaining serious injury.

King testified he had no harmful intention and fired the revolver playfully to amuse himself.

H. M. Duncan and S. V. Thompson, charged with larceny by John Surputorsky, were acquitted.

On the failure of Attorney A. J. Barton to appear in criminal court to answer to five charges of false pretense, resulted in his bonds being ordered forfeited. A deputy sheriff has been hunting Barton for nearly a week, with a capias in a civil suit in which Caroline Jacoby alleges that the name of George W. Marsh was forged to a note for $800. Four civil suits stand against Barton, in three of which he is under bail aggregating $2,100. Caroline Jacoby is plaintiff in all three suits, involving notes of $2,215. Attorney George F. Alter represents the plaintiff.

The five criminal charges involve the alleged appropriation of three checks for $464, $836 and $250 and for fraud. Attorneys A. S. Miller and A. B. Smith had the informations drawn.

The Pittsburgh and Brooklyn baseball teams are invited to be the guests of the Building Trades Council at the United Labor carnival, in the Arcsnal grounds this evening. Bartenders' night will also be celebrated tonight. The members of Bartenders union No. 188 will be present in a body.

The rain yesterday dampened the ardor of carnival visitors greatly. Several thousand people, however, went out in the evening, and enjoyed themselves. MAY ORGANIZE A NEW ASSOCIATION

Bricklayers Dissatisfied With the Present Fight to Secede from the B. M. I. U.

ONLY METHOD TO END DISPUTE

Work to Be Stopped if Trouble Is Not Settled This Evening—Builders' League and Builders' Exchange to Consolidate Monday.

A large number of the members of the Bricklayers and Masons International union contemplate organizing an independent association. This is considered the best way to end the trouble between the bricklayers and stonemasons.

Some bricklayers say the present fight was uncalled for. They argue that, with their wage scale signed for a year, and considering the fact that they had been permitted for several years to work with the independent stonemasons, a change should not have been asked for by the executive officials of the bricklayers. Any member who violates the mandates of the national officers is fined $100, and for that reason those who are thinking of seceding are working cautiously, so in case their scheme fails through they will not be compelled to pay the assessment.

So far, the move is keeping idle about 5,000 men, George Jones, secretary of the Stonecutters' International union, said yesterday: "The report that over 100,000 men will be affected is absurd. We have less than 300 men idle, and if the contractors had not decided to stop all their work, less than 50 would have been affected. We have 1,720 members in this district. The lodges all standing firm. None are affiliated with the B. M. I. U."

The lockout is only on buildings where both factions are working. The Builders' league will meet the warring factions a final opportunity to adjust their differences before ordering the lockout. Both unions have been notified that the league will meet tonight to receive any agreement which may be entered into by the organizations looking to a peaceable solution of the question. If no assurance is given the league the contractors will notify the men not to report for work Monday.

The brick contractors and stone contractors' associations held meetings last evening to consider the situation. Neither took any further step, as both are leaving the dispute in the hands of the Builders' league.

The Builders' exchange and the Builders' league likely will be merged into one association Monday at a special meeting called for that purpose.

IN THE LABOR WORLD.

Local No. 73 of the International Brotherhood of Bookbinders will commence a series of entertainments tonight.

The district officials of the International Association of Machinists have ordered printed the new schedule to be presented to the manufacturers. Copies will be sent immediately with a request that they be signed and returned.

HEARING NEXT MONDAY.

Board of Viewers on Widening of Diamond Alley to Listen to Owners.

The board of viewers, which will assess the damages and benefits arising from the widening of Virgin alley to a width of 44 feet, as provided for in the ordinance passed by councils and approved by the recorder, about five months ago, has been appointed, and the first hearing will be held next Monday. The application for the appointment of the board was made to the court about two weeks ago.

The hearings before the board of viewers probably will not take up much time and it is expected that they will be ready with their report in quarter time, as is usually the case in an improvement in which so much valuable property is involved. Under the terms of the present ordinance the alley will be widened only between Smithfield street and Liberty avenue, although an ordinance has been introduced for the relocation and widening of the alley between Smithfield and Grant streets, which will make it a 44-foot street through its entire length.

Portrait Presentation to Chamber.

A life-size oil painting of the late George A. Kelly will be presented to the chamber of commerce by Attorney Sol Schoyer, on behalf of the members of the family. The picture is on exhibition at the art rooms of J. J. Gillespie, in Market street. Mr. Kelly was president of the chamber of commerce for many years and a member from its beginning. The painting was executed by Artist William Thorne of New York city. The presentation will be made at the meeting of the chamber next Monday, at 2 o'clock.

STOCK MARKET TURNS AT LAST

A Strong Rally Results in a Complete Change in Sentiment—Local Securities Also Recover—Money Was Easier.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a complete reversal of sentiment in Wall street yesterday and it bore fruit in a strong rally in the stock market, which resisted the attempts of the bear party to force additional liquidation. The improvement was not confined to Wall street. London prices showed advances of 1 to 2 per cent, and a London cable quoted at length an interview with Lord Rothschild in which he was reported as saying that he had every confidence in the value of American securities, that he was himself a purchaser of American railway shares, and that his friends had been investors on the present decline. All this was not without its effect in causing some nervousness among the shorts, and this feeling was strengthened by rumors to the effect that several large speculative accounts that had been hanging over the market had been taken care of and the menace removed. There was a scramble at the opening to buy, and prices showed gains ranging from ½ to 1½ per cent. Almost without exception the initial quotations proved to be the lowest of the day, and there was very little interruption to the subsequent advance. Atchison opened at 65¼ and advanced steadily until the price crossed 68, a net gain of more than 4 per cent, or a year's dividend, compared with the low point of Wednesday. Missouri Pacific opened 1½ per cent higher at 100¼ and advanced to 102½. Union Pacific, which was a favorite with foreign buyers, opened 1½ per cent higher at 79 and advanced to 81¼. St. Paul opened 2 per cent higher at 149¾ and advanced to 151½. Baltimore & Ohio was also bought for foreign account, and after opening 1¼ per cent higher at 81, advanced to 83½. These were the leaders of the rally, but the whole list participated in the upward movement. The industrial list was also very strong and some substantial gains were recorded. Amalgamated Copper opened 1¾ per cent higher at 53¾ and in the final dealings reached 55¾. United States Steel common advanced from 29¾ to 30¾ and closed near the top, being a net gain of about 2 per cent from the low point of Wednesday. The preferred advanced to 80½, being a clear gain of 2 per cent. An attempt was made during the early part of the afternoon to check the advance, the bears arguing that the change in sentiment had been too sudden to last. The attempt, however, met with no success whatever, and closing prices were the highest of the day in most instances. The sales were 860,800 shares.

⊙ ⊙ ⊙

There was very little heard yesterday of the fight between the Pennsylvania and the Gould-Rockefeller interests, and the various stocks of the latter were firm all day. There is little doubt that a large part of the advance was based upon covering of shorts, for the news of the day was not uniformly favorable. Wet, cold weather in the west was one factor that was not favorable. The announcement that $1,100,000 gold would be shipped to South America was distinctly unfavorable, for bank reserves are in no shape to stand much more of a drain; but the tone of the money market was, if anything, easier for both call and time loans, indicating that there might be some manipulation of the rates for the sentimental effect upon the stock market. The revolution in Servia was entirely ignored, so far as foreign stock markets were concerned, although the event may raise some serious international problems. The weekly statements of the foreign government banks, however, were distinctly favorable. The Bank of England reported an increase of more than $7,000,000 in reserve, and the percentage is now 53.06 per cent, against 49.61 per cent a week ago. At the same time there was a decrease of $10,000,000 in loans, and the rate of discount remained unchanged at 3½ per cent. The weekly statement of the Bank of France showed a slight net decrease in cash, and a decrease of $8,100,000 in loans. Railroad earnings were as a rule favorable, the only exception being Missouri Pacific, which reported a decrease of $130,000 in gross for the first week in June. This was so evidently the result of the floods, the effects of which will be temporary, that it attracted little attention.

The local stock market shared in the improvement in the east and closed with a better tone. There was an absence of selling pressure, and as a result the volume of transactions was smaller. The local money market is not in condition to encourage any increase in activity in the stock market, but now that both the state and national bank statements have been called there should be some easing up in the local money market. Crucible Steel common, which led in point of activity, rallied to 15 and closed at 14¾ bid. The preferred rallied to and closed at 81, a net gain of ¼ per cent. The 1¾ per cent quarterly dividend on the latter is payable June 29 to stock of record June 17. United States Steel was moderately active and firm, the common closing at 30¼, a net gain of a dollar a share, and the preferred closing at 80¾, a net gain of 1¾. Manufacturers Light and Heat was also firm, advancing to and closing at 39½, a net gain of a dollar a share. Philadelphia Company rallied to 41, and Ohio Fuel Supply, after selling down to 40¾, rallied to and closed at 41¾ bid. Westinghouse Electric was dull but firm, advancing to 90¾, and closing higher at 91 bid. Airbrake remained unchanged at 158. There was very little doing in the coal stocks, but the tone was firmer and Pittsburgh Coal preferred advanced a dollar a share to 86, closing at 85¾ bid. National Fire Proofing remained heavy and on sales of nearly 800 shares the common declined to 24, closing at 24⅛. The preferred declined to 35 and closed at 35¼.

There was very little doing in the bank and trust company shares. American Trust declined to and closed at 500, a loss of 5 points. Commonwealth Trust was unchanged at 240 and Iron City Trust at 154. Monongahela National Bank sold at 290, a decline of 1 per cent. There was very little change in the remainder of the list.

CONCERTED BUYING.

It may be, as one observer expressed it, that the psychological movement in the stock market arrived yesterday when everybody suddenly came to the conclusion that stocks were too low, and made a rush at the bargain counter. Whatever the cause, when there has been a sudden and violent break in prices and the cause thereof has been at once revealed. The most notable illustration occurred on May 9, 1901, but there has been no violent break in the stock market this year, and while the decline has been enormous, it has been spread throughout five months, and no one special cause was responsible for the liquidation. There was a concerted buying movement in the market yesterday, and it has been sustained then any for weeks. It was also better distributed, coming from the continent, from London, and from this country. There are trifling small trades, and it is impossible that instead of the general public reaching the unanimous conclusion that stocks were on the bargain counter, there was consent of opinion among the larger financiers to check the downward movement before it terminated in a panic. Wednesday's market was perilously near the verge of a panic. The bear party was emboldened by its past success, and threatened this year, and without justification. Had it not been checked, the greatest demoralization might have ensued. Stocks are admittedly low, compared with last year's prices and gauged by the yield on the investment, but it is not at all likely that the market has now started on an uninterrupted upward movement that will restore the old level of prices. It is probable that if the advance can be maintained, there will be a brief "bear" panic, a final spurt in prices, and then a long period of increasing firmness and narrow range of fluctuations. Bankers' profits will become a period of quiet in speculative circles.

CONFIDENCE RESTORED.

A prominent local banker who spent Tuesday and Wednesday in New York, returned yesterday. Commenting last night upon the course of the market he said:

"I was not surprised to see the recovery. A thorough investigation of the situation was made by financiers of New York bankers this week, and I was told there was a foundation for nothing in financial conditions to warrant the sacrifices that were being made in the stock market. Early in the year influential bankers decided that affairs had developed to such a shape that the country would be spared a repetition of the experiences of last fall and winter, and they so notified clients who had large stock market accounts. Acting upon this advice, the liquidation of August and was proceeding in a leisure way, and the general situation was being improved. The slow but steady decline, however, began to arouse suspicions that everything was not right. Votes was then given to these suspicions by the circulation of rumors affecting interests supposed to have large outstanding speculative accounts, or interested in unsuccessful underwriting.

"The market has witnessed a 'bear' party for about three years. The continuous decline encouraged bearish operations, and the circulation of stories, about friction between large financial interests, finally produced a nervous feeling among real investors. The downward movement, unchecked by natural forces, were not in position to buy securities, as they have done in the past under similar market conditions. The result was that the market threatened to run into a panic. I believe there was a concerted movement to sustain prices, and if it is maintained, the market will accept the bull side hereafter. So far as New York banking interests are concerned, there is a stronger feeling of confidence today than there has been for two weeks."

LOCAL LOSSES IN WALL STREET

The wildest kind of stories have been current of the losses incurred by some of the local operators in Wall street. A Pittsburgh member of the New York stock exchange said last night:

"In the aggregate, Pittsburgh has lost proportionately as much as any other city by the shrinkage in security values, because Pittsburgh's interest in the New York market is large. But the stories of individual losses have been greatly exaggerated. A large part of the alleged losses consists in the disappearance of paper profits, but I have reason to believe that Pittsburgh has still very large holdings in the market, and will have been sending an enormous amount of cash east, in the shape of additional margins to hold on to their stocks."

NOTES AND COMMENT.

There was a good rally in Manufacturers Light and Heat, which sold up to 39¾ at the close, and at one time 80 was bid for 1,000 shares. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, on the other hand, continued weak, small lots selling at 72. Philadelphia Company and Ohio Fuel Supply closed firm and higher.

The declining tendency in Westinghouse Airbrake continues, the stock selling at 158. Electric was less active but firmer. An initial transaction occurred in the warrants, on which $30 has been paid, 75 selling at $38.

The Fourth National bank yesterday elected Mr. S. W. Vandergrift president to take the place of the late James M. Bailey. The board also elected Mr. Hamilton Evans of the P. & L. E. R. R. as vice president.

This bank has now a strong directorate, and will consequently do a large business. The Trust Company organization has had been heretofore reported.

There were transactions in only four members of the local bank and trust company group yesterday, and prices averaged lower. Union Trust was offered down to $2,400.

The Pittsburgh stock exchange clearing house will begin operations next Monday, and members of the exchange were yesterday making preparations for the rules that will hereafter govern the clearing of checks. The system will be a labor-saver in the settlement of transactions between members, and it is computed that only one-tenth part of the present volume of exchanges will have to pass through the Pittsburgh clearing house.

Wabash reports an increase of $10,000 in gross earnings for the first week in June. For the same week Canadian Pacific reported an increase of $211,000. The gross earnings of the Wabash R. R. for the month of May increased $112,000.

The gross earnings of Chesapeake & Ohio for the month of June increased $26,177. The Bowling Coal Company's report yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of ½ per cent.

The annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Railway association will be held in Pittsburgh on September 23 and 24. The members will be the guests of Group 8.

During the afternoon the rumor went out that Peoples Gas, Baltimore & Ohio and Union Pacific would be attacked by the Hearst papers. The result of the buying evidently frightened the wreckers and the attack was not made.

The Philadelphia News Bureau says: Following the policy of acquiring coupon and branch lines, the Pennsylvania railroad has made a very liberal offer to the minority stockholders of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston Railway Company. The road has $300,000 par value of shares to offered to the public, out of $3,772,400, the balance being now owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. The Pennsylvania railroad offers 2½ shares of its stock for each share of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston company. The executive committee was empowered to deposit their stock with the treasurer of the Pennsylvania railroad before July 15, 1903. The circular says that large expenditures are necessary on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston to meet current requirements, and that it is necessary to make it an integral part of the Pennsylvania system. The Pennsylvania has already advanced $4,000,000 for improvements to the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company not only owns 90 per cent of the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railway, but the whole of its mortgage bonds. The road has been operated for years as a part of the Pennsylvania system.

The initiative in the advance yesterday came from London and was said to be the result of a cable from Berlin. A banker on Wednesday afternoon by a prominent banking house stating that after a careful investigation of the situation it had been impossible to discover any grounds for the anxiety which prevailed. In other words the investigation justified the conclusion that in spite of the heavy depreciation in values of the past few weeks, Wall street was in a sound condition.

The impression prevails in Wall street that for the time being, at least, forced liquidation is over. Those of the interest or interests which have been suspected of incurring a somewhat hazardous position have been successful in meeting their obligations by selling stocks which, being forced, as was feared, into an open reversal of buying.

It is said that assurance was given to every Wall street house, after a meeting of New York bankers Wednesday, that the financial situation is perfectly sound, after having scrutinized all the large loans to the street.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The local money market remains firm at 6 per cent on call and time loans. Exchange is scarce and in sharp demand, and there have been shipments of currency to Philadelphia and New York, because of the inability to obtain exchange. Clearing house comparisons

GOOD PURCHASE IN ALLEGHENY

Jacob Dietz Bought No. 305 Federal Street for $58,500 for a Hotel Site.

PENN AVENUE SALE OF $28,000

North Side Residence Brings $20,000. Castle Shannon Farmhold—Deal in Webster Avenue—Big Building Projects Ordered Stopped.

Another choice location in Federal street, Allegheny, was sold yesterday through James E. Meighan, of the Consolidated Real Estate Company. It is the property at No. 305, formerly owned by Mrs. L. G. Stevenson of Buffalo. The buyer is Jacob Dietz, the hotel man, who sold his own property, two doors above, to John Sauers a few days ago, for $101,000. For the lot at No. 305 Mr. Dietz paid $58,500, which is at the rate of $2,023 a front foot, or $16.90 a square foot, the lot measuring 21.5x120 feet. In addition there is a seven-year lease on the property, which was bought for $15,000. This brings the price up to $58,500, or $2,721 a front foot, a high figure for property below the railroad. In addition to this the buyer pays a dower interest of $400 a year. The two-story brick building on the lot is now occupied by G. & J. G. Brook, dealers in men's furnishings. The location is an excellent one for a hotel and it is reported that Mr. Dietz will erect a handsome six-story building next year.

STILL BUYING OUT PENN AVENUE.

Through the agency of C. C. Hamilton the Sachs Real Estate Company has sold the property at No. 1208 Penn avenue, for $28,000, the buyer being Charles H. Spandau, the Smithfield street jeweler. The lot is 25x160 feet on the south side of the avenue, near Twelfth street, and has on it a three-story brick building. This is the first sale in this immediate vicinity for some time and is at the rate of $1,120 a front foot, or $11.20 a square foot.

The same broker sold for Michael Dwyer to James H. Thompson and George M. Schmidt, a 20x100 foot lot on the north side of Webster avenue, near Chatham street, and having an average depth of 52 feet, for $8,000. The lot is improved with a brick house.

The J. M. Porter residence, at No. 209 North avenue, Allegheny, has been sold to a prominent North Side business man for $20,000, by W. M. Kelly, who, with A. B. Hay, Jr., negotiated the sale. The lot measures 50x100 feet at the northeast corner of North avenue and Arch street, directly across from the North Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, and facing the park. The residence is a modern brick house, containing 16 rooms. No changes are contemplated at present, as the purchase was made for an investment.

BOUGHT ON NEW STREET CAR LINE.

The improvements rapidly nearing completion in the street car service beyond Castle Shannon, are attracting many buyers for the farms in that vicinity. The latest deal of this kind was closed yesterday by S. A. Person, who sold to A. P. Boyer to a local business man, a farm of 35 acres in Bethel township, for $10,500. This property is two miles south of Castle Shannon on the east side of the macadamized road leading from Pittsburgh to Library. The new Charleroi street car line passes by it and by this route it will be only 35 minutes from the city. The track is down, the power house at Library is completed and the line graded on to Charleroi. By July 1 it is expected the cars will be running to Monongahela City. The property sold adjoins some small farms bought six months ago by William Hummel and others. These have been sub-divided for larger residence sites and it is the intention of the present buyer to plot his property into one-acre lots for which there has been a good demand of late.

Through the Fifth Avenue Realty Company William A. Zahm has sold to K. Rosenberg four brick houses at Nos. 1865-1871 Webster avenue, for $16,500. The houses occupy a lot 50x82 feet on the east side of the avenue, between Crawford and Roberts streets, and were bought for an investment.

HENRY PHIPPS ORDERS A HALT.

The stubborn attitude of the brick and stone masons and the general slump of the building trades which is threatened in consequence are disgusting prospective builders to such an extent that many large pieces of work are likely to be put off indefinitely. After a careful survey of the situation, Henry Phipps who spent a few days in the city recently, decided that until matters were settled to a certainty he would not only undertake no more building projects, but would postpone indefinitely the finishing of the Bessemer buildings and the power house which were started a year ago and have been delayed greatly by the continued strikes. The buildings will cost $1,000,000 and 2500 men were employed in finishing them. Mr. Phipps had planned to erect a 12-story store building at the corner of Sixth street and Duquesne way, next to the Red Lion hotel, to cost at least $1,250,000. Instead it is likely that a one or two-story building, a "tax payer," will take its place. A local department store has been figuring with Mr. Phipps for two years for long lease on this 12-story building. But this deal is said to be entirely "off." An entrance will be provided in the new building to the Hays & Behman theater, which is to be erected in the rear. Plans have been taken by the architects, Dodge & Morrison of New York. All estimates will be in by June 15, and the theater is to be finished by January 1.

THEATER PROJECT WAITING.

Work on the new Star theater in Ninth street is postponed indefinitely for the same reason. R. M. Gulick, one of the owners, said yesterday that owing to the pending difficulties among the labor unions, the contract for razing St. Andrews church had not been let, nor would anything be done on the new building until a thorough understanding could be obtained with the contractors, as delay in the work by strikes would involve heavy losses to the owners of the theater. The erection of a hotel and warehouse on adjoining lots, which has been seriously contemplated by Messrs. Gulick and McNulty, is also hanging fire until the labor situation is settled. The erection of other large building projects already announced have been ordered stopped peremptorily for the present.

Architect Joseph Stilburg has awarded to S. P. McCain the contract for building the hotel for Joseph Ilenberger on the lot at 42 East Ohio street, Allegheny, which he bought last week for $24,000. This side formerly ran to Ohio Mr. Ilenberger to present location in Diamond street, giving him two good fronts. The hotel will be a three-story brick structure, fireproof, and will cost $25,000.

LOOKING FOR DOUBLE FRONTAGES.

The sale of the Chronicle Telegraph building through C. G. Paul, noted in another column, is another proof that investors are waking up to the fact that Pittsburgh will soon have two new streets and that it is policy to buy now when the prices are based chiefly on one frontage. Recently, for two other properties in Fifth avenue extending back to Virgin alley shows that the frontage in the latter street between Wood and Smithfield streets is likely soon to make the market. In Diamond street, in the same square, two deals amounting to $1,140,000, announced this week, are proof of the same condition. The widening of Grant from two thoroughfares to four, and of so much and delayed so long that old Pittsburghers are slow to wake up to the fact that the reality will soon be here and that for business purposes they will be more valuable than many of the downtown streets where properties are now selling at from $3,000 to $6,000 a front foot.

The Kelly-Wood Real Estate Company has secured an option on seven acres of the Ross property near Lincoln park in the Twenty-first ward, and a sale of it is daily expected. The option price is $24,000. The plot measures 500x1,000 feet in the north side of Lincoln avenue above Lexington avenue. It adjoins the property of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd and runs up to the Ebel holdings.

TWO EAST END PROPERTIES SOLD.

W. W. Vensel Has bought from James L. Kay a property 100x186 feet on the north side of Forbes street, near Murdoch street, Twenty-second ward, for $16,750).

Gottlieb Blottert sold to W. L. Stewart an improved property, 25.5x160 feet, on the south side of Avenue avenue, Seventeenth ward, for $11,000. Mr. Stewart has resold the property to Charles F. High for $12,000.

William Mullins has purchased the business and fixtures of the Model Delaney in Market street for $31,000. He has also secured a long lease on the property and will make extensive alterations to the building.

Homewood avenue: Dilworth Bros. & Co. sold for Enoch Winter and Charles Elsner an improved property fronting 56.5 feet on the east side of Homewood avenue, between Bennett street and Frankstown avenue, for $5,628.

Federal street: The Arcuelus Realty Company sold to Henry Lawrence for the Collingwood estate the two-story brick building on lot 25x100 at 33 Federal street, Seventh ward, for $6,700.

Permits were issued yesterday in the Allegheny bureau of building inspection to John T. Comin, for the erection of a one-story frame dwelling on Brighton road, at a cost of $2,000, and to St. Leo's convent for the remodeling of a two-story frame dwelling on Schimmer street at a cost of $1,500.

BUILDING IN PITTSBURGH.

The bureau of building inspection yesterday issued the following permits: Joseph Golden, frame two-story dwelling at 49 California street, Thirty-eighth ward, to cost $800. Joseph Rahl, brick one-story office building, at 614 Bingham street, Twenty-ninth ward, to cost $800; Mrs. William Schaite, brick one-story store room, at 2224 Carson street, Twenty-sixth ward, to cost $750. Daniel Miller, frame two-story and basement dwelling in Flemington avenue, Twenty-third ward, to cost $2,200; Frederick Raibach, three-story frame dwelling and store at Chris-Girard and Ridge streets, Thirteenth ward, to cost $2,000; O. C. Olson, brick veneer two-story and attic dwelling, in Upland avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $2,600; John Sweeney, brick and steel two-story and attic dwelling in Upland avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $2,600; J. K. Trichlie, brick veneer two-story and attic dwelling in Upland avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost $2,600; Mansfield Bros., the brick veneer two-story and attic dwellings in Upland avenue, Twenty-first ward, to cost all told $15,000.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Buyers in drygoods have not been particularly active, being balked in their efforts to purchase by generally higher prices, at which sellers are independent. Mills are closing in increased numbers and the curtailment of production is beginning to make its effects in causing sellers to take no orders on which they are not covered.

FRESH EGG MARKET SHOWS MORE FIRMNESS

Cheese Steady, With Demand Active — Blackberry and Raspberry Prices Decline.

A much stronger egg market in the east has caused a diminution of prices here, and dealers are making a determined stand for better quotations. As eggs run now it is no unusual thing for the jobber to lose two dozen to the case when candling, and for this reason advanced figures are necessary to cover losses. However, it has not been possible to put up prices to the range they should have occupied until now, but the demand in the east has so stimulated the general situation that sellers can afford to be more independent, and are adhering stiffly to the higher figures fixed. There is no change in butter, but the market is very steady. Cheese is holding closely to listed prices, and manufacturers assert that prices will not decline any more at present, as demand is absorbing all output. There is an excellent export demand for cheese, and the market is likely to be held firm for some time, although there is always a possibility of lower figures later in the season of the year, when new cheese is taking the place of old.

Hay and grain prices remained unchanged yesterday, with the market steady in all lines. Hay receipts are slightly heavier than they were earlier in the week, but the demand is active and there are no accumulations. Oats are in steady request, and quoted figures rule in nearly all transactions. Ear corn is firm and shelled is steady.

Few changes were made in the fruit and produce market. Fancy strawberries are firmer, but prices are no higher. Blackberries are lower, while huckleberries are unchanged. Currants are not yet regular arrivals, and some were offered yesterday. Cantaloupes were firmer, though there were some offerings at old figures. Watermelons were allowed to remain without change of price and were offered in a fair degree of activity. Buyers have not yet commenced to take hold of watermelons freely, and demand is moderate only. California cherries are in bulk, and some were offered yesterday. Lemons are lower, offerings being as low as $1 per box. Lemons are strong, with quotations a trifle stiffer for fancy stock. Potatoes, both old and new, showed no change which have ruled all week. Apples are unchanged, and in light demand. String beans and peas are steady at former prices.

Chickens continue light, and no lowering of prices has come. Consumers are showing no disposition to curtail demand for poultry, notwithstanding the high range of prices, and there is call for all the stock now coming forward.

No change has been made in the price of refined sugar in the local market, and cost or less than cost figures continue to prevail. Nothing in the way of adjusting this matter was accomplished at the Columbus meeting of wholesale grocers, and local jobbers now give it as their belief that there will be no improvement in conditions for some time. Refiners have no advance as refiners advance them, but wholesalers see no relief ahead for themselves. Other groceries are all unchanged. Flour maintains a strong position, and mill feeds are firm at quotations.

In the Oil Fields

Developments in the lower southwest fields were light yesterday. The number of wells drilled in and completed is fair, below the average. Rhode is important as to location.

On the east side of the Folsom district, in Harrison county, W. W. Vr., the Delmar Oil Company has completed and shot its second test on the Jodie Loomis farm and will not have better than a 15-barrel gusher in the Gordon.

In the same district, during the South Penn Oil Company has completed its test on the J. W. Loeman farm and the hole has filled up 2,500 feet with fluid.

The same company's No. 2 A. H. Hildreth has been drilled eight feet into the Gordon and has filled up 2,000 feet with oil. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the South Penn Company has drilled its test on the Silas Tustro farm through the stray and has found nothing but a light show of oil. The Salem district has not for several months been able to furnish anything better than small gushers. There is not a new or old well in the district now drilling or being deepened.

In the Pine Grove extension in Wetzel county the South Penn Oil Company has completed and shot its test on the Minerva Jackson farm and it will produce 25 barrels the ensuing 24 hours.

On the west side of the extension and in advance of developments, the South Penn's No. 1 on the Jackson farm, Pine Grove district, is the best in the extension. It is holding up at 125 barrels a day and is now two weeks old.

In the Fairview district, Marion county, the South Penn has drilled its No. 11 on the James Yost farm through the fifth sand and has given it a shot. It will make a fair producer in the Newburg pool. The Cairo Oil Company has drilled its No. 4 on the E. H. Oxley farm, on McFarlan creek, Ritchie county, through the salt sand and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper.

In the Centerville district, Tyler county, the Colonial Oil Company has shot its No. 6, an old producer, on the White home farm, and increased its production to 45 barrels an hour. On the Ohio side, Marion county, the Kings Run development, in the lower edge of Belmont county, Wilson A. Co. have drilled their test on the A. Yarnell farm through the Keener sand and found nothing but a light gas pressure.

In the Williamstown district, Wirt county, a fine bunch of dusters have just been completed, of the number some are important tests. In the Burgettstown field, Washington county, the Gilleapie Oil Company, a recent production, R. G. Gillespie has drilled in his test on the Russell farm and has a show for a 15 or 20-barrel producer.

AMMON RECEIVED MONEY AND BONDS

William F. Miller Relates in Detail His Dealings With Col. Robert A. Ammon.

LARGE SUMS STILL MISSING

After He Had Been Sent to Sing Sing He Sent $50,000 Worth of Securities to His Attorney—Assets of Franklin Syndicate Were $450,000 at One Time.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, June 11.

Without mercy, William F. Miller, of the "620-per-cent syndicate," was cross-examined today in the trial of Robert A. Ammon, accused of accepting $30,000 of the money. His was a sad story. From a $5-a-week clerk he rose suddenly to abundant wealth, and then as suddenly he was imprisoned and rendered penniless. He strove to tell how he had gained wisdom through contact with Ammon. When court adjourned this afternoon the cross-examination had not been concluded.

The most important fact brought out in the examination was that, after being imprisoned in the Sing Sing prison, Miller sent Ammon $55,000 in bonds, and that at another time the assets of the syndicate amounted to about $450,000. Of this sum $175,000 went to Schlessinger, a partner, and the remainder to Ammon. The way in which Miller gave large sums to Ammon not only amazed the spectators at the trial, but the court as well.

"Yours were the brains that formulated the scheme of the Franklin Syndicate?" asked Mr. Palmer, counsel for Ammon.

"Yes," admitted Miller.

"Yours was the sole idea as to the management of the syndicate?"

"Yes."

"Were you still a member of the church?"

"Yes."

"Did you ever think you could pay the 520 per cent profit to investors?"

"I thought I could work it out some way."

Miller was next asked if he had ever been examined as to his sanity. He said he had not, but that in the syndicate days his mind was considerably upset, everything was going so fast.

Edward Schlessinger, Miller said, had told him they would be able to pull through somehow. Schlessinger, he said, promised to fix it so that brokers' books would indicate that they had lost money in speculation that they had never risked.

"You don't consider yourself stupid?" asked Mr. Palmer.

"Well, I have been stupid," admitted Miller.

"You have recovered."

"I am beginning to get wise," observed Miller.

"Did you get wise when you talked to the district attorney?"

"No; I got wise through my experiences with Ammon."

"Did your conscience ever trouble you?"

"I guess I choked my conscience," said Miller.

"Did you have any trouble in choking it?"

"Well, I did not feel very comfortable."

"Was it a sting of conscience or a desire to get away safely with the swag?"

"Sometimes I felt one way and sometimes another." C. P. GRENEKER.

POLE CASE BEING ARGUED.

Attorneys for Western Union and Pennsylvania Appear in Court at Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 11.—Argument was begun today, before Judge Morris of the United States circuit court, in the suit of the Western Union Telegraph Company to restrain the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington railroad from cutting down the telegraph poles along its line. It was opened by Isidor Raynor, counsel for the telegraph company, and Bernard Carter replied on behalf of the railroad.

The argument will not be concluded until tomorrow, and it is not thought that Judge Morris will decide the question at issue until next week.

"SUGAR" JENKINS COULDN'T WARBLE HIMSELF INTO A JOB

Controller John B. Larkin received a visitor yesterday in the person of "Sugar" Jenkins, colored, a member of the Citizens' quartet which discoursed music at the meetings held in the interest of Mayor Hays' candidacy this spring. "Sugar" is from th Seventh ward, and he wanted the controller's influence to secure him the appointment of janitor in a school house. He told Mr. Larkin so.

"Couldn't you sing yourself into a job?" asked the controller.

"No, sir. And I am through with singing and I want to go to work," was "Sugar's" reply.

"I'm sorry," responded the controller. "I am a lover of music and those who furnish it, but I'm afraid that I have not enough influence to secure you the position.

Whistling the opening bars of "Hiawatha" in a doleful key, "Sugar" left the controller's office.

LORD ROTHSCHILD IS NOT ALARMED

Says Financial Conditions in America Cause No Distrust in Europe.

STILL BUYING OUR STOCKS

Great English Financier Shows His Faith in United States Investments by Purchase of Railway Shares—Cause of Shrinkage.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, June 11.—Lord Rothschild was interviewed today on the financial situation in America. He said:

"It is no use looking further than your nose in these matters. The depreciation in stock values is not caused by European selling, for the very good reason that Europe has scarcely any American securities to sell. Yesterday's sales in London were almost entirely on New York orders. Amsterdam sold slightly, but not nearly as much as was attributed to that city by the dispatches. When an American wants to sell he has got into the habit of sending his order here and leaving it to the arbitrage houses.

"There is absolutely no feeling of distrust in Europe over the financial conditions in America. Only a fool would say that the financiers here are making what you call a dead set against American securities.

"What do I think of the future? Well, the best answer I can give is this," and Lord Rothschild handed over a stock ticket showing that he had just purchased 500 shares of an American railway. "That, of course, is only a drop in the bucket, but I may tell you that one of the wealthiest capitalists I know yesterday invested £200,000 in American securities and he has put another £200,000 into them again this morning. That sounds large, but it is nothing compared with the selling orders which come here from New York. At such a period as this the transactions of even the largest investors had a small effect upon the market in which the speculator figures so largely."

Lord Rothschild's explanation of the recent serious shrinkage in values is this: "Speyers went into the street railways, Yerkes came over here to electrophy the undergrounds, Morgan bought British securities, and I am told Schwab went in largely for British industrials. They all thought that British or European investors would make larger share in these European enterprises than they did. The result is that some of the largest capitalists in America have been obliged to realize on their securities on the other side in order to provide capital for their undertakings here. Under such circumstances, quotations were bound to go down."

Caused Big Fire Loss.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 11.—Damage estimated at $700,000 was caused by fire here today. The blaze started in the Pancoast building, which, with the brick Presbyterian church adjoining, was destroyed and an entire row of houses in Fitzhugh street and several buildings in State and Allen streets were badly damaged. There was no loss of life.

VAN COTT'S RECORD UNDER SCRUTINY

Son of New York Postmaster Will Be Examined by Investigators.

NO SPECIFIC CHARGES MADE

Mail Pouch Fraud Being Investigated at Baltimore—C. E. Smith, the Contractor, Tells of His Connection With the Affair—The Profits Were Divided.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Room 10, Postal Building, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.

Intimation was given out at the postoffice department today that while no specific charges had been filed against Richard Van Cott, son of Postmaster Van Cott of New York, there had been developments in the course of the minute investigation now going on in the New York postoffice which would lead to a specific inquiry into young Van Cott's connection with the department.

The investigation of the postoffice scandal has now reached such proportions that an investigation made on specific charges often develops other irregularities. Investigation along these lines immediately follows, whether the charges have been made or not. In this way young Van Cott's acts are now likely to come under the inspection of Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow.

Eleven inspectors are now at work in the division of salaries and allowances, of which George W. Beavers was formerly superintendent.

BALTIMORE, June 11.—The preliminary hearing of C. Ellsworth Upton and Thomas W. McGregor, charged with complicity in the postoffice department frauds, took place today before United States Commissioner Rogers.

Smith was used as a witness for the government. He testified that he bought the pouches in 10,000 lots from a firm in Worcester, Mass., paying 30 and 35 cents per pouch. On the advice of Upton, he put in a bid at 90 cents, which was accepted. When he got the money he gave 40 per cent to Upton and McGregor kept the remainder. He said he sent the bids to Superintendent Machen at Washington.

Commissioner Rogers bound over the accused to answer before the United States grand jury, which meets next Saturday.

TO EQUIP THE MILITIA.

War Department Makes Apportionment of Fund Appropriated by Congress.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—The war department today made announcement of the provisional appointment to the states and territories of 50 per cent of the $2,000,000 appropriated by the act for arming and supplying the militia to correspond with the regular army.

Pennsylvania is given $79,484; Ohio, $51,730; West Virginia, $9,860; New York, $121,433; Virginia, $17,936; Oklahoma, $6,730; Hawaii, $4,569. Ten thousand was assigned arbitrarily to Porto Rico and deducted from the appropriation of $2,000,000.

MONEY COMING IN TOO SLOWLY

Fourth of July Celebration Contracts Not to Be Let Until Funds Are in Sight.

EXCELLENT SPORTING EVENTS

Features This Year Will Surpass Any Previous One—Nearly $600 Contributed Yesterday and $2,000 Worth of Fireworks Will Be Bought at Once.

Subscriptions amounting to nearly $600 gave the Fourth of July celebration in Schenley park a boom yesterday. The money is being sent to the mayor's office. It is stated that the subscriptions are not coming in as fast as is desired since nothing will be contracted for until there is money in sight to pay for it. It is the intention this year to have a fund sufficient to pay all bills so that there will be no debts to worry about after the celebration.

Mayor Hays and Director Bigelow are ready to let a contract for $2,000 worth of fireworks at once. As soon as more money comes in more fireworks will be bought. This year $15,000 will be needed to carry out the plans for the celebration. Of this amount there is but $4,000 in the treasury and those who are running the celebration are greatly handicapped by the slowness with which the money is coming in. All prospective subscribers have been asked to make their contributions at once.

There will no free concession at Schenley park for this year's celebration. In previous years churches and religious associations have had free privileges to portions of the park for the purpose of selling articles for church purposes. These religious institutions will have to pay a nominal rental. It is argued that the church people get free that which other people have to pay for and it is unfair to those who pay.

The sporting features of the day's program from present indications will be the best ever given since celebrations of the Fourth have become features in this city. There will be about 16 events on the programs that will be issued probably Monday. If possible Arthur Duffy, the celebrated sprinter, holding the world's record of 9 3-5 seconds for 100 yards, will try to be prevailed upon to give up his trip to Europe for awhile and appear here on the Fourth. His appearance would be greeted by as large a crowd as turned out to see him at Travers island track, New York, last year.

The subscriptions received at the mayor's office yesterday are:

Confident He Will Come.

The board of trustees of the Pennsylvania College for Women are confident that the Rev. Samuel B. McCormick, president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia., will accept the presidency of the Pittsburgh institution. No answer has been received from him and it is thought that he has not received the notice of his election, as he was in California attending the meeting of the general assembly and may not yet have reached his home.

TWO BANKS SUSPEND.

President of One Is Blamed for the Closing of Both Institutions.

BIRMINGHAM, ALA., June 11.—The Bessemer Savings bank and the Bank of Commerce, both at Bessemer, Ala., closed today as the result of a shortage and supposed defalcation of T. J. Cornwell, president of the first named bank. At 2 o'clock this morning Judge Senn, on petition of the depositors of the savings bank and directors of the Bank of Commerce, appointed receivers.

The petition for a receiver in the case of the savings bank sets forth that the liabilities are $235,000, of which about $230,000 was deposits. The assets are placed at $35,000. The liabilities of the Bank of Commerce are $45,000, and assets $67,000. The latter bank, it is stated, was closed as a precautionary measure, and it is believed it will pay out. President Cornwell cannot be found.
